Testifies His Crew Could Have Put Out Blaze Quickly

NEW YORK (AP) — A navy witness testified today that navy men could have extinguished the fatal fire aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation in a half hour except for interference by city firemen.

The witness, John F. Rutledge, a chief machinist's mate, also hit back at charges of messy housekeeping aboard the carrier and said the city firemen appeared to lack experience in ship fires.

Rutledge testified before a naval court of inquiry investigating the disastrous fire Dec. 19 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The fire claimed the lives of 49 workmen and did $75 million damage to the $275 million ship.

Tapes Studied In Probe of Plane Collision

Recordings From Crafts Go to Capital For Comparison

City Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanaugh Jr. testified yesterday that the ship was in such sloppy condition he would have "ordered work stopped and the premises cleaned up" if it had been a civilian project.

Rutledge is stationed aboard the destroyer Emey, berthed near the site where construction of the Constellation was nearing completion.

Organized Detail

He said that shortly after the fire broke out aboard the carrier, he organized a fire-fighting and rescue detail of 26 men equipped with special fire-fighting equipment and oxygen tanks.

Rutledge said the detail moved aboard the Constellation and "we were doing fine until we were ordered off the ship because of lack of hard hats."

He referred to the type of protective helmets worn by workmen.

He said "a New York City fire chief" gave the order to get out on the ground that falling debris made the use of hard hats essential.

Rutledge contended that, at that time, his men could have extinguished the fire in a half hour with a fog type spray they were using.

NEW YORK (AP)—Tapes from two automatic flight recorders were in Washington today awaiting comparison by investigators probing the Dec. 16 collision of two airliners over New York City which cost 138 lives.

One of the tapes was from a United Air Lines DC8 which yesterday duplicated the flight pattern of the same type plane that collided with a Trans World Airlines Constellation.

This tape was to be compared with one recovered from the ill-fated sister ship.

Melvin Gough, director of the Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Safety, collected the tape after the test flight.

Aboard the jet yesterday were observers from United Air Lines and Trans World Airlines, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Aviation Agency and the Air Lines Pilot Association.

Different Weather

Flying conditions were different, however, on Dec. 16, when the jet and TWA Constellation collided, the day was snowy and overcast. Experts said the difference would be taken into account.

One purpose of yesterday's simulated flight was to determine why the jet apparently overshot a holding area near the Jersey shore south of Staten Island.

Appeals to Russia, Britain Asks Joint Action to Halt U. S. 'Aggression'

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Red China today asked the co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Indo-China to take "energetic action and effective measures" to stop what he called U.S. aggression in Laos.

A letter was addressed to Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko of the Soviet Union and the Earl of Home, British foreign secretary, said Radio Peking.

They were delivered through the embassies of the two countries in Peking.

The letter calls on the Soviet Union and Britain to "take energetic action and effective measures to stop the action of the U.S. government in violating the Geneva agreements and intervening and committing aggression in Laos."

The two nations are co-chairmen of the conference that brought about an end to the Indo-China fighting in 1954 and the emergence of the independent nations of Laos, Cambodia and North and South Viet Nam.

Follows Russian Lead

Chen Yi followed the Soviet lead in proposing the recall of the Geneva conference and the reactivation of the control commission consisting of Communist Poland, India and Canada.

He asserted, however, that any attempt by the commission to make contact with the "illegal" pro-Western government of Provisional Premier Boun Oum would have "extremely serious consequences."

Police Use Tear Gas, Fire Hoses in Strike

Socialist Union Leaders Call General Walkout in Antwerp

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Police used tear gas and fire hoses today to break up a demonstration in Ghent. Socialist union leaders promptly called for a general strike in Antwerp to retaliate.

It was the first use of tear gas in the eighty-day strike aimed at toppling the government of Premier Gaston Eyskens. Strikers in Ghent were trying to force workers out of the gas works' administrative office.

Antwerp, lying in the Flemish Northern section, has not been hit as hard by the strike which has paralyzed the Socialist strongholds in the industrial and French-speaking South.

The government had reported a back-to-work movement in Antwerp, except for workers at the big port installations. Harbor installations are still paralyzed.

Strike May Spread

If successful, the Antwerp call would spread the general strike to an important Flemish area where many are Social Christians and back Eyskens, himself a Socialist.

Union officials reported about 60,000 workers were on strike locked out or blocked from going to work in Antwerp. The region has about 100,000 Socialist union members, an equal number of Social Christians, and an undetermined number of unorganized workers. The Social Christians are unlikely to follow the Socialist strike call.

Women's Picket Line

In Liege, a southern industrial city, the railroad traffic chief was found injured on a street near the station. At the Liege post office, a picket line of 40 women tried to prevent postmen from going to work.

Led by Louise Marchand, a Socialist, the women were the first to demonstrate. It was the first time since the strike began that women were picketing.

Attorney Moves to Re-Examine Goldfine

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. Atty. Elmer Richardson says he believes Bernard Goldfine may be well enough to stand trial on charges of evading $700,000 income taxes.

Richardson said Monday night he filed a motion Dec. 8 for re-examination of the Boston industrialist's mental condition.

Goldfine, 70, held in federal custody, was discharged from a Washington mental hospital last week by order of U.S. Dist. Judge George L. Hart Jr. The judge released Goldfine in custody of his son, Solomon, of Scarsdale, N.Y., for private psychiatric care.

Chicago Christmas Toll On U.S. Highways Increases to 488

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic accidents during the 73-hour Christmas weekend killed 488 persons — an average of one about every 10 minutes.

The final toll was below the pre-holiday estimate of 519 made by the National Safety Council. It was the lowest for a 3-day Christmas holiday since 1939 when 413 traffic deaths were reported and compared to last year's Christmas weekend toll of 495 fatalities.

The council said this year's total compared with an expectation of as many as 350 on a non-holiday weekend of comparable length at this time of year. An Associated Press survey for a 78-hour weekend period earlier this month showed 260 traffic fatalities.

In other violent deaths this Christmas, 77 persons perished in fires and 62 others lost their lives in various types of accidents. The overall total of 647 compared to last year's 609, which included 42 killed in fires and 73 in miscellaneous accidents.

The council has estimated 340 persons may be killed in motor vehicle accidents during the New Year holiday weekend, Jan. 1-3, a 78-hour period from 8 a.m. Friday to midnight Monday local time. The toll for a comparable non-holiday period, the council said, would be 310.

Kennedy Picks Navy And Air Secretaries

Proposed Aid To Depressed Areas Mapped

Task Force Headed By Douglas Reports To President-Elect

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blueprint for a multi-million dollar attack on the problem of depressed areas is ready for President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy appointed a task force, headed by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., to draw up the plan so he could carry out one of his key campaign promises — to help chronically distressed areas typified by the coal fields of West Virginia.

Main Goals Mapped

Douglas reported Tuesday night, after a seven-hour meeting of the group, that "all substantive questions have been more or less resolved," with only some of the language remaining to be re-drafted.

He said no further meetings will be needed before the report is presented to Kennedy on Jan. 2, a day later than previously planned. Douglas declined to give any details of the plan, saying the group was created to advise Kennedy and that it will be up to the President-elect to release the report if he wishes.

But informants who took part in the meeting said it contained three major parts:

1. Doubling the amount of surplus government food distributed.

$450,000 to $500,000 Stolen Florida Armored Car Firm Looted

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A Tampa detective today estimated thieves escaped with between $450,000 and $500,000 in cash from the vault of the Radsdale Armored Car Service office.

Three persons, all present or former employees of the firm, are being questioned by police, said O. C. Beynon, inspector of detectives.

The estimate was made by Beynon after the contents of the vault had been inventoried by police and company officials. The money was stolen early Tuesday.

Authorities waited throughout the day in hopes the door would open automatically, then brought in pneumatic drills to cut a hole through the side of the vault last night.

An FBI agent said the agency intended the investigation to "determine if any of the stolen money has gone across state lines."

Officers theorized that the loot-luck had been set to open the door shortly after midnight Tuesday, rather than the usual 6:30 a.m.

Several employees of the firm were questioned during the night.

When workers cut through the vault wall, officers, insurance underwriters and employees moved in with adding machines, tally sheets, fingerprint kits and other equipment.

Mrs. E. A. Radsdale, vice president of the firm, said big receipts from the Friday and Saturday business of several department stores had been placed in the vault. It also included Friday's and Monday's receipts from Tampa's Greyhound Race Track.

She said any loss would be covered by insurance.

Chicago Christmas Toll On U.S. Highways Increases to 488

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic accidents during the 73-hour Christmas weekend killed 488 persons — an average of one about every 10 minutes.

The final toll was below the pre-holiday estimate of 519 made by the National Safety Council. It was the lowest for a 3-day Christmas holiday since 1939 when 413 traffic deaths were reported and compared to last year's Christmas weekend toll of 495 fatalities.

The council said this year's total compared with an expectation of as many as 350 on a non-holiday weekend of comparable length at this time of year. An Associated Press survey for a 78-hour weekend period earlier this month showed 260 traffic fatalities.

In other violent deaths this Christmas, 77 persons perished in fires and 62 others lost their lives in various types of accidents. The overall total of 647 compared to last year's 609, which included 42 killed in fires and 73 in miscellaneous accidents.

The council has estimated 340 persons may be killed in motor vehicle accidents during the New Year holiday weekend, Jan. 1-3, a 78-hour period from 8 a.m. Friday to midnight Monday local time. The toll for a comparable non-holiday period, the council said, would be 310.

Money for Envoys Kennedy Problem

Unless He Can Convince Congress
Of Need for More Money, He'll Have to Pick Wealthy Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless President-elect John F. Kennedy can convince Congress that American ambassadors need more expense money, he'll have to fill some top diplomatic posts from the ranks of the wealthy.

Kennedy started a move in the direction of more expense money this week when he had an amicable discussion of the problem at Palm Beach with Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y. Rooney has referred to ambassadorial entertainment funds as "booze allowances." As chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee Rooney has fought for years against increasing them.

Rooney reported that the president-elect's father, Joseph Kennedy, felt obliged to spend about $100,000 a year of his own money while he was ambassador to Great Britain. Such sums are not usually found in the bank accounts of career diplomats of the type Kennedy reportedly wants to send to some of the most important—and expensive—foreign capitals.

Sees Way to Avoid Horrors Of Nuclear War

Replace Arms Race
With Fresh Ideas,
Psychologist Says

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a way to avoid H-bomb war horrors, a psychologist declared today.

He blamed the cold war mainly on human nature and the idea that mighty defenses assure security.

The way out lies through realizing this, and then seeking new ideas, said Dr. Charles E. Osgood of the University of Illinois.

He spoke after a famous British scientist-novelist, Sir Charles P. Snow, had predicted that within, at most, six years Red China and some other countries would have nuclear bombs.

"Within, at most, 10 years, some of those bombs are going off," unless scientists and others act to prevent it, Sir Charles said.

Dr. Ralph Lapp, physicist of Arlington, Va., presented private estimates of this country's tremendous nuclear power.

U.S. Weapons

He said he figures the United States now has nuclear weapons equal to 50,000 of the atom bombs which destroyed Hiroshima, and could produce the equivalent of 30,000 more in a half dozen more years.

The scientists addressed sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Sir Charles spoke Tuesday night and the others today in sessions sponsored by an AAAS Committee on Science in the Promotion of Human Welfare.

Dr. Osgood said "nations today are lumbering down the one habitual path to security—bigger and better weapons—gathering as they go tensions which make it less and less possible to conceive of any other alternatives."

Osgood said he agrees with others who question "whether being able to annihilate an enemy 10 to 100 times over deters him much more than being able to annihilate him once."

Alternative to War

"All this frightens the daylights out of me, but frightening people isn't enough," he said.

"What we need, and that most urgently," he said, "is an enlightened search for new alternatives to war as a means of resolving human conflicts."

A world government may be the only permanent solution, he said.

Of minor accidents were reported in Denver where slick streets snarled traffic during Tuesday's rush hours.

Mrs. Keith Stackhouse, Norwood, Ohio, has a problem. Her son, Bill, 22, left, graduates from the U. S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, and the other son, Charles, 20, right, from the U. S. Naval Academy—both on the same day. Mrs. Stackhouse, who has been offered a free round trip ticket to the Air Force graduation, says: "I would be unhappy inside. I just wouldn't feel right. I won't see either one if I can't see them both."

Peron Henchmen Set New Asylum Record

Brothers Live for Over Five Years
In Basement of Paraguayan Embassy

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina finally deposed Peron in 1955, the AP—Two of ex-dictator Juan Peron's policemen set a record this week for time spent in political asylum in a Latin-American embassy.

The brothers Juan Carlos and Luis Amadeo Cardoso have been living for 5 years, 3 months and 1 week in the basement of the Paraguayan Embassy.

That is a week longer than the famous stay of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, leader of the leftist APRA party of Peru, who finally was allowed to go into exile six years ago from the Colombian Embassy in Lima. Haya de la Torre was accused of a part in a bloody revolt in 1948, and Colombia and Peru twice fought his case through the World Court at the Hague before they finally reached face-saving agreement.

The laws and traditions of political asylum in Latin America, born of uncertain times, are meticulously observed on a continent where the political pendulum of often swings swiftly. Many an ousted dictator has managed to retire in comfort abroad because those who gained power by revolution never knew when the revolt against them might come.

But in recent years there has been a rising public clamor for trial of those accused of brutality and atrocities.

The brothers Cardoso were attached to the Peron dictatorship's special section of the federal police. Their job was to extract confessions from politicians and citizens who ran athwart the Peron regime.

Moon-faced Juan Carlos and mustached Luis Amadeo are accused of specializing in the use of an electric needle while the victim was tied to a hard table.

Talks With Press to be Carried Live

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — John F. Kennedy will do some trail blazing at his news conferences as president. Some of them will be carried live during evening hours on nationwide television and radio.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, announced this decision — under consideration for several weeks—Tuesday night after a meeting with representatives of the major TV and radio networks. Salinger reported network officials very receptive to the plan for live broadcasts.

The decision recalls the Kennedy camp's conviction that his most effective campaigning for the presidency was in his TV-radio debates with his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

President Eisenhower's question and answer sessions with reporters have been taped for later use on TV and radio. But only one of his conferences has been carried live—a session at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco in 1956.

Salinger told newsmen it is likely Kennedy's first news conference after he takes office Jan. 20 will be on live TV and radio. He also said news conferences will be held "more often than they have been in the past eight years."

Eisenhower's average is one session about every two weeks for a total of 192 conferences.

Salinger said the White House in the new administration will ask the networks from time to time to carry evening news conferences live but the networks will be free to carry any or all other presidential meetings with reporters on a live basis.

Network representatives who conferred with Salinger here said they have no plans to broadcast all presidential conferences.

Negro Fraternity Votes Cash Award to White Integrationist

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The A national Negro fraternity Tuesday voted a $250 cash award to a white New Orleans family which sent a daughter to an integrated school despite threats of violence.

The award was made by Omega Psi Phi, composed of about 26,000 members in the United States, to the James Gabriel family for their contribution to democracy.

Delegates to the fraternity's annual convention said that Coletta's father, Carmel Burns, is a farmer and part-time carpenter. The family lives about five miles from this Arkansas village, eight miles from the Missouri border.

Though the family is in modest circumstances, Coletta's mother said the children would have had no Christmas presents even if Coletta, a water meter reader, hadn't written the New York Herald Tribune moved his family to Providence that she hadn't heard from her father for a long time. Coletta said integrationists in refusing to send her got the idea for the letter his daughter to the integrated school.

Friends of Johnson To Retain Control of Senate Policy Group

Two Liberals Reported in Line
For Selection to Committee Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Friends of other regular members are Sen. of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Richard B. Russell of Georgia, D-Tex., apparently are going to retain control of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee in the new Congress.

Democratic leaders are reported to have agreed on the selection of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island to fill two vacancies on the group which passes on legislation to be placed before the Senate.

Magnuson and Pastore class themselves as liberals. But their expected selection may be greeted with something less than enthusiasm by such past critics of Johnson's middle-road course as Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois and Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Pennsylvania.

Liberals in Majority
As the committee is beginning to stack up, self-styled liberals apparently are going to be in the majority. But they include no outspoken critic of the man who will become vice president on Jan. 20.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, expected to be promoted from Johnson's assistant to the top leadership job, will head the policy makers. His assistant leader, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, will become a committee member for the first time as will Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, chosen for secretary of the party conference.

Besides Magnuson and Pastore, electronics devices.

Michigan Concern
Buys Wisconsin Firm
BELDING, Mich. (AP)—Stahl Bros. Fibre Works has purchased a controlling interest in a Burlington, Wis., electronics firm. The Wisconsin firm, General Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, chosen for secretary of the party conference.

Besides Magnuson and Pastore, electronics devices.

Coins From Air Crash Victim's Pocket Used in Memorial

CHICAGO (AP) — The nine scorched coins in young Stephen Baltz's pocket when he was carried away from a burning airplane two weeks ago totaled 65 cents.

They will be part of the memorial children's room to be established in the hospital where he died 26 hours later, one of 136 victims of the collision of two airliners over New York Dec. 16.

But the donations, being sent in by total strangers whose hearts were captured by the suburban Wilmette youth while he battled vainly for life, already are running into the thousands of dollars.

In New York, a donor known Elderly Lady donated $1,000 to the Methodist Hospital of Brooklyn, where the 11-year-old lad died. The hospital has received gifts of $1 and $5 from other donors.

The funds will establish the memorial room in the children's ward. The nine coins will be trans-fused into a memorial plate to be hung in the room.

In Wilmette, Stephen's mother, But it will take time.

Biggest Wisconsin Industry

Papermaking Story Told

BY THOMAS E. BRANNAGAN
Papermaking in Wisconsin is as old as the state itself. The Wisconsin paper industry, giant of the nation today, got its start in 1845 when the first state mill was built in Milwaukee on the west side of the Milwaukee River near its junction with the Menominee River. One of the proprietors was Joseph Ludington, a brother of Harrison Ludington, later governor of the state. In sharp contrast to the multimillion dollar Wisconsin paper mill of today, this first Wisconsin mill was housed in a 45 by 50 foot horsepower steam engines and one papermaking machine which used a pulp made from rags. The entire cost of the building and contents was only $9,500. Ten workers were employed at a total payroll of $40 per week. These $4 a week papermakers worked twelve hours a day and turned out one hundred and ten reams of paper a week, enough to supply the entire press of the state. The paper sold for 25 cents a pound or $500 a ton, approximately four times what modern newsprint costs today.

This is the second of a series of five articles by Thomas E. Brannagan, director of the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service, on the paper industry in Wisconsin.

The March 7, 1848, issue of Milwaukee's "Daily Sentinel and Gazette" was printed on the mill's first production, the first paper ever manufactured in the state. The Sentinel's editor wrote that, while the quality of the rather coarse paper could compare favorably with newsprint made in the east, "this is hardly a fair specimen of what the manufacturers can do, since their machinery is not yet in perfect trim."

Mill Re-Situated

Financial troubles beset Wisconsin's first papermakers and the following March a Milwaukee attorney, D. E. Cameron, took over the business. It was sold to Noonan and McNab in 1850, who moved the mill five miles up the Milwaukee River, where it was resituated in two frame buildings beside a flour mill. The new settlement was named Humboldt. The dam that furnished water power to these mills was washed out in 1854 and was not rebuilt. The plants were abandoned and Humboldt went out of existence until the site was later resettled by a growing Milwaukee.

Several other paper plants were started in Milwaukee about this time and the city became the first papermaking center of the state. In the early 1860s, when paper became scarce and expensive during the Civil War, the publishers of the Sentinel built their own paper mill. It flourished until 1867 when one of its boilers exploded and blew the operation to fragments.

The next scene of concentrated papermaking activity was on the Rock River running through Beloit. Two Beloit men, T. L. Wright and S. T. Merrill, started a small mill south of Beloit in 1851 and five years later they started the Beloit Paper Co. in Beloit. Other mills were started in this area about the same time, and northeast of Beloit, at Whitewater, the Whitewater Paper Co. was started in 1860.

Fox River Valley

A plentiful supply of fresh water being a prerequisite of successful papermaking for both power and production, the industry's eyes turned northward in Wisconsin, and in the next half century the basis of the state's present gigantic paper industry was founded and prospered in the ideally situated Fox River Valley and along the Wisconsin and Chippewa Rivers. With the reintroduction of wood pulping processes into papermaking, the fortunate proximity of seemingly unlimited forest lands made these areas all the more attractive and papermaking finally came into its own in Wisconsin.

The year 1872 is especially important in the history of Wisconsin papermaking, not only because that year saw the founding of Kimberly-Clark Corp. at Neenah, now one of the nation's largest paper companies, but also because it was the first year of what was to become a boom in the founding of important paper mills in the state. In the next 10 years 20 paper companies were to come into existence, mostly in the Fox River Valley. Six of the state's present mills are descended from those pioneer firms.

The year 1872 also saw the in-

Approximately 1872, when the Kimberly-Clark Corp. was founded, the first paper mill in the Fox River Valley was built. The photograph shows a woman operating a large piece of machinery in the mill.

Fifty Years Ago a family of five meant long hours of tedious laundering and ironing for the homemaker, who had to use equipment like that in the top picture. Today these jobs, and living in general, are made easier by paper. Economical, disposable paper products like tissues, towels and napkins save the homemaker much washing and drying time, as well as hours of ironing. Much of the country's supply of this type of paper is produced in Wisconsin.

production in Wisconsin of the from a dependence upon rags ceased the making of wood pulp by groundwood pulp process for making paper. The Western Wood Pulp Mill, a newly invented process using ing paper, freeing the paper mills started at Appleton in 1872, from popular wood thrown away by nearby lumber mills. The Keller groundwood process, improved in England, was introduced the following year in the old Eagle paper mill at Kaukauna. In 1878, Kimberly-Clark joined in a venture to manufacture manila wrapping paper from jute butts and groundwood pulp at Appleton.

Industry Prospered

As the use of pulpwood spread, the paper industry expanded rapidly in Wisconsin. In the twenty years following 1882, 81 new paper companies were formed in 24 communities. In the Fox Valley, mills appeared at Green Bay, West De Pere, Menasha, Little Rapids, Combined Locks and Kimberly.

Water power sites and forests attracted capital to the Wisconsin and Chippewa Valleys and other sites to the west and north. Paper mills and pulp plants were built in Wisconsin Rapids, Stevens Point, Eau Claire, Waupaca, Shawano, Marinette, Rhinelander, Tomahawk, Park Falls, Wausau and many other communities.

The highest concentration of paper mills in the world is located along some 35 miles of the Fox River between Lake Winnebago and Green Bay.

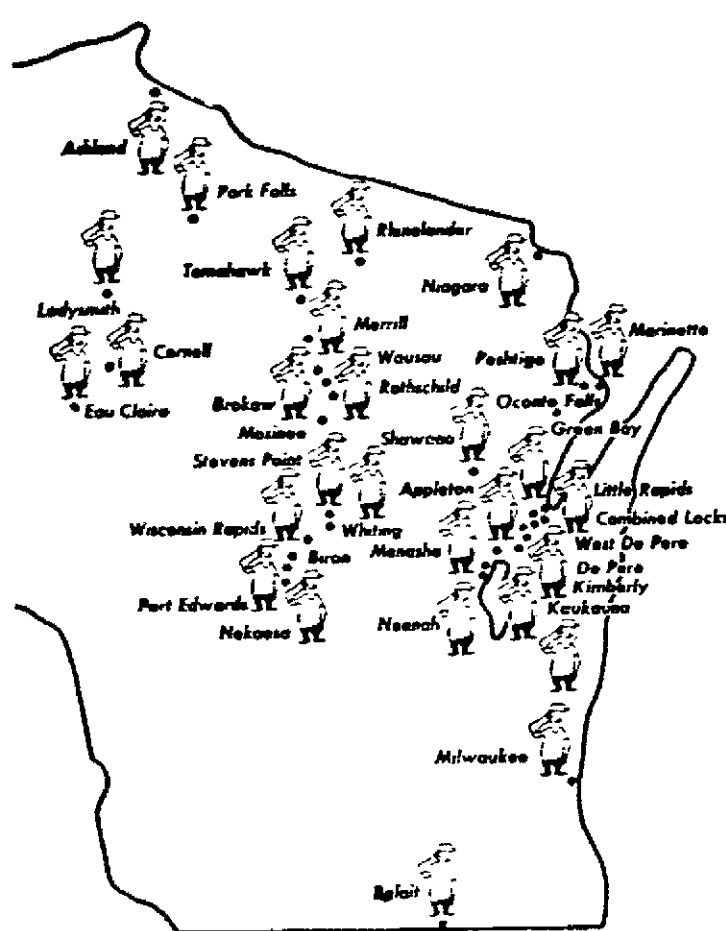

Today, except for three mills of which two are comparatively small, all of Wisconsin's primary paper production is concentrated in forty-six mills in the northern two-thirds of the state.

Stable Industry

Although Wisconsin's industry has had some rocky years, it has proved to be one of the state's more stable industries. In the depression years of the early 1930s when national manufacturing output dropped an average of 56 per cent, output of Wisconsin paper mills dropped only 34 per cent and the mills, while running on short schedules, were still able to provide employment.

Advanced technology and alert management helped save Wisconsin's paper industry in those years and are a guarantee

One or more paper mills are located at each point on this map where the mill worker stands. The heaviest concentrations of mills are in the Wisconsin River and Fox River Valleys. All mills combine to make the paper industry the largest in Wisconsin and Wisconsin the largest paper-producing state in the United States.

San Francisco Gets 3 First-Round Picks in Slow-Moving Draft

Minnesota Team Changes Mind About Trading Mason

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Two minute warning," said National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle had to go to extremes Tuesday to get one of the slowest moving player selection meetings in modern history into even low gear. He finally put a 10-minute limit on selections and issued a two-minute warning. The teams took 15 hours to pick 126 players in nine rounds. The balance of the 20-round draft of 280 players was adjourned to 10 a.m. EST today.

The league's newest franchise Minnesota's Vikings, wasted little time. Now all the Cowboys have to do is outbid the American Football League's Dallas Texans for the pair.

Six of the 1960 All Americans were traded for pro warfare. Detroit took Missouri's Dan LaRose. Chicago latched onto Pitt end Mike Ditka. St. Louis got Auburn tackle Ken Rice. Philadelphia took Yale guard Ben Baima. Dallas picked Lilly, and Cleveland got Mississippi quarterback Jake Gibbs, who probably will play baseball, wasn't selected until the ninth round.

Other early choices included quarterback Norm Snead of Wake Forest by Washington, Ohio State quarterback Tom Matte by Baltimore, Martin McKeever, Southern California linebacker by Los Angeles, Bertie Casey, Bowling Green (Ohio) back by San Francisco, Michigan State's Herb Adderley by Green Bay, and Syracuse's Art Baker by the champion Philadelphia Eagles.

The stars, by dint of previous trades, had three first-round picks. In addition to Casey they selected Jim Johnson and Bill Kilmer. UCLA offensive backs Washington picked two on the first go-round, naming Illinois tackle Joe Rutgers as well as Snead.

AFL teams earlier this month took most of the same players. They included Mason (Boston), Snead, Rice and Baker (Buffalo), Rutgers, Oakland, McKeever and Kilmer (Los Angeles Chargers), Ditka (Houston), Matte, Casey and Adderley (New York), Bob Crispino, Mississippi end taken by Cleveland, also was selected by the AFL's Oakland team.

Ron Kostelnik Is Team's Second Choice

BY ART DALEY Post-Crescent News Service PHILADELPHIA — The Packers came up with a "big three" in the first nine rounds of the National Football League's annual draft here Tuesday.

Green Bay went into the 1960 draft hoping to bolster three positions—an offensive halfback with outside speed; a defensive lineman; and a defensive halfback.

"Excellent Choices" The first three rounds supplied the Western Division champions with what Coach Vince Lombardi called "three excellent choices for those positions" . . . they are:

First choice — Herb Adderley, offensive halfback from Michigan State.

Second choice — Ron Kostelnik, 255-pound defensive tackle or end from Cincinnati.

Third choice — Phil Nugent, the Tulane quarterback who ranks as one of the best defense backs in the country.

The Packers received nine players in the first nine rounds (closing one in a trade and gaining another in the longest draft in the history of the league.)

The selecting started at 10 15 a.m. Tuesday and the ninth round was completed at 12 40 a.m. today. The first two rounds used up 8 hours and 5 minutes, the last seven took 6 hours and 20 minutes. Commissioner Pete Rozelle finally adjourned until 10 a.m. today. The drafting was expected to be finished late this afternoon.

Long Delays Competition with the new American Football League and Canada forced the long delays as the coaches called the athletes direct and attempted to ascertain their signing possibilities. The Browns waited 2 1/2 hours to get in touch with tackle Jim Tyrer of Ohio State in the East-West camp at San Francisco. Cleveland finally traded its first round choice to Dallas.

The Packer drafting contingent — Lombardi, Verne Lewellen, Bill Austin and Phil Bengtson—fell

Hickey is an expert on such things since his gold diggers were beaten by Green Bay in that rain and sloop classic in Frisco two weeks ago.

Franklin Field's green (it was just plain dirt in the middle and made City Stadium look like a golf green) was frozen solid except in a few patches but the warm sun melted down the top or so of soil. It was like a couple of inches of butter on an ice rink.

Vikings Play Lake Forest, Elmhurst in Holiday Meet Here Thursday, Friday

Surprising Ripon Also Appears In 4-Team Basketball Event

FVL Quintet Wins, 46-45, Over Alumni

Triumphs From Foul Line Despite 8-for-26 Record

BY MIKE DREW Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A 2-day holiday meet in Lawrence College's Alexander Gym fills a void on this week's light Fox Cities basketball card.

Thursday, Ripon plays Elmhurst at 7 p.m. and Lawrence meets Lake Forest at approximately 9 p.m. The two Midwest Conference schools switch Illinois foes Friday.

"You can call this a festival, or a bowl," says Lawrence's coach, Don Boya. "But, it's not a tournament since opening game winners don't meet Friday."

"We set up the meet this way so that Lawrence and Ripon, which play twice during the league season, wouldn't meet in this event too."

The Midwest Conference representatives are in the midst of their best campaigns in years. Lawrence has won three of its first six starts. Ripon is 4-2 and is called by Boya "the most improved team in the conference."

The Vikings resumed practice Tuesday after a 10-day holiday. The last time the Vikes were on the court together was Dec. 17 when they posted a surprising 79-74 victory over Cornell.

Lawrence will be trying Thursday to break another one of the losing skews which have proved embarrassing in recent years. This one is a string of 20 straight losses to non-conference foes.

The twentieth in that chain of misadventures was forged by Lake Forest here last Feb. 20 in a 73-65 decision. Phil Sokody and Tom Lewis, the Foresters' leading lights then, are both back.

Lewis hit 21.

The 63 Lewis, who led the College Conference of Illinois in scoring as a sophomore, wired 21 against the Vikes. Sokody collected 17. Both are outstanding rebounders and good drivers.

The Dick Trippow-coached Foresters lost 77-68, in their Alumni vs. opener and then won five in a row.

Elmhurst's Bluejays have a 1-4 record but ten seconds before the record but, reportedly, are better than that mark. The top scorer is a 6-3 senior center Earl Collignon. Verlyn Dobberstein's two free who is averaging over 17 points per game and is the top rebounder at 34-33 in the fourth stanza.

The victors hiked it to 43-33 before the Alumni closed the gap for guard Dick Luzziati, averaging 12 points per game.

Other regulars are forwards Dick Jarreau (6-2), sophomore Lee Yunker (6-3) and Walt Lueder (6-2), good rebounders, and sophomore Chester Dobrowski, a 5-10 guard.

Ripon Mark Lake Forest beat Elmhurst. Ripon posted victories over Grinnell, Knox, Monmouth and Beloit and has lost to Coe and Cornell.

Senior guard Mike Mullen (5-11) is averaging 22 points a game. Juniors Dick Papke and Bruce White (both 6-5) are hitting about 12 per cent.

Other probable starters are Dave Lehmann, 5-11 junior, at guard, and Al Jarreau, 6-2 junior, forward. Menasha's Dick Montoradi, a 6-2 senior who prepped at St. Mary's and Don Lindsey, a 6-3 senior, are others who will see plenty of action.

Boya plans to stick with his same all-veteran starting lineup. Included are Chuck Knoke and Jim Schulze, both 5-8, at guards, and Loren Wolf, and Jim Rasmussen, 6-4, and Joe Lamers, 6-3, in the front line.

High-scoring Rasmussen bruised a calf muscle in the Cornell game and the injury hasn't been reported too well to treatment. Juniors Jim Jordan and John Hackworthy—both 6-2—are the top forecourt relief.

Menasha sophomore Fred Flom who opened the season as the No. 6 man, has had his knee in a cast in an effort to give the injured joint complete rest. He's out for an indefinite period.

Buckeyes Tounce Seton Hall, 97-57; Purdue Victorious

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the exception of undefeated and top-ranked Ohio State, Big Ten basketball teams will be in full-scale action tonight.

Ohio State, after trouncing Seton Hall, 97-57 Tuesday night in New York's Holiday Festival, will be granted a day of rest before going against undefeated St. John's, the nation's seventh ranked team.

Purdue walloped Notre Dame, 76-58, in the first game of the Hoosier Classic Tuesday night but Illinois could not overtake Butler and dropped a 70-68 decision in the second game.

Faces Notre Dame

Purdue meets Butler and Illinois faces Notre Dame in tonight's Hoosier action in Indianapolis.

Northwestern and Michigan faces Ivy League foes while other teams will engage in tournament play on the West Coast. Brown is at Michigan and Dartmouth at Northwestern.

Indiana, Iowa, Michigan State and Minnesota will display their talents in the West Coast Classic in Los Angeles and Wisconsin will try its hand in the Far West Classic in Portland.

Jerry Lucas was held to a season low of 16 points by Seton Hall but his teammates more than made up for it. Larry Siegfried and John Havlicek also had 16 points. Mel Nowell 15 and Bob Knight 12. Buckeye Coach Fred Taylor benched his regulars midway in the second half after they had rolled to a 77-44 lead.

Fifth Straight

Purdue, after a pair of initial road losses, rolled to its fifth straight triumph and once again it was Terry Dischinger leading the way. Dischinger scored the Boilermakers first 10 points for a 10-3 Purdue lead and finished with 32. Armand Reo was high for Notre Dame with 21.

Illinois could not cope with the home floor advantage in bowing to Butler, a team the Illini had smothered 84-52 at Champaign earlier this month. It was a close battle all the way. The score was tied 39-39 at the half but Butler broke a 51-51 tie, built a 59-54 advantage and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Don Wilson topped Butler with 19 points and John Wessels and Jerry Colangelo were high for Illinois with 17 points each.

Sports History Makers Will Be Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Retired, undefeated heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be honored as one of the "History Makers of the Century" at the annual B'nai B'rith sports lodge awards dinner here Jan. 22.

The dinner, a memorial to the late Bill Corum, will make special awards to athletes who have been outstanding since the turn of the century.

Among the others who will receive awards are Dr. Roger Banister, the first runner to crack the four-minute mile; jockey Johnny Longden; pitcher Don (perfect game) Larsen; Bobby Thomson, who hit baseball's "miracle homer"; tennis star Jack Kramer, and the backfield of the champion Chicago Bears of 1940—Sid Luckman, Ray Noling, George McAfee and Bill Osmanski.

NEW YORK (AP) —Wilt Chamberlain continues to pile up points for the Philadelphia Warriors at a record-breaking pace in the National Basketball Association. Chamberlain's total of 1,140 points is the most ever for a player in the league in 31 games.

Although Chamberlain leads by only eight points over Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, he has two extra games to play. Chamberlain has played 31 to Baylor's total of 1,132 in 33 games. Wilt the Stilt has averaged 36.8 points a game to Baylor's 34.3, through games of Dec. 25.

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's ace, has 869 points.

Barney Cagle of Syracuse has made the highest percentage of floor shots with 93 of 188 for .495. Bailey Howell of Detroit and Robertson are tied for second at .472.

Chargers' Gillman Cooks Up New Offensive Strategy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Sid Gillman is cooking up some new offensive strategy for the Los Angeles Chargers in their New Year's Day game at Houston against the Houston Oilers.

At stake is the championship of the American Football League. Houston won the Eastern Division title and the Chargers tied down the Western crown. The teams met three times this year. They split two regular season games and the Chargers took their first game, played during the exhibition stage.

Los Angeles is placing considerable emphasis on improving the blocking for its fleet Paul Lowe, leading ground gainer of the team. His sweeps and cut-backs spearheaded the Charger ground game this season.

Jack Kemp, Charger quarterback who led all others statistically in the AFL, figures to wage a stirring duel in the air lanes against Houston's veteran, George Blanda, who formerly called the signals for the Chicago Bears.

Phil Williams Unloads 593 'Coated' Set

Phil Williams shot a 593 for the Wildcats in Hahn's Appleton Coated League Tuesday night. One of his games was a 245.

The Wolverines (30-18) lead the league by a half game. Other honor scores: Ted Fischer, 573; Jake Van Linn, 234; Bob Gossen, 237.

Hawks Jolt Badgers In Grade Basketball

The Hawks beat the Badgers, 19-1, in the only reported action Saturday in the Appleton Recreation Department grade school basketball action.

Jerry Rankin scored seven to lead the fifth grade Hawks. Forfeits in the fifth grade league saw the Terrors beat the Lions and the Falcons win over the Scorpions. In sixth grade play the Wildcats downed the Colts and the Junior Raiders stopped the Globetrotters, both on forfeit.

into no lengthy delays. The Bays added a junior eligible, the highly-touted halfback of Arkansas, Paul Dudley, on the fourth round.

Two guards and an end — Joe Lesage of Tulane, Jack Novak of Miami at Fla., and Lee Folkins at Washington — followed in that order. Near the end, Lombardi noted that the Packers were getting just edged out by other selectors, forcing the Bays to make last minute changes.

Lew Johnson, a fleet halfback from Florida who packs 185 pounds, and two juniors — halfback Fred Cox of Pitt, who was traded to Cleveland for Bob Jarvis, and 250-pound tackle Vester Flanagan of Humboldt College, rounded out the early draft.

Fourth choice Lesage was obtained from Philadelphia in exchange for Bob Freeman.

Pick 12th

The Western Division champs, due to their 8-4 finish, had to pick 12th and Lombardi was highly pleased that Adderley was still available. "I've heard nothing but good things about him and we feel fortunate in getting him," Vince said later.

The Spartan does the 100 in 9.9 and Lombardi likened him to Lenny Moore, the great Colt speedster. "For what we want, Adderley is better than (Tommy) Mason," Vince said. Mason was the first player chosen — by Minnesota. Adderley stands 6-1 and packs 189 pounds.

Adderley, who is the first Negro ever selected by Green Bay as a first choice, was contacted immediately and he noted that Green Bay already has three Michigan State players — Dan Currie, Norm Masters and Bill Quinlan. Adderley said in early correspondence with the Packers that he would play for Green Bay.

The Bays' top pick was chosen by the New York Titans in their recent draft. He's now working with the East team in the Shrine game at San Francisco.

Kostelnik was quickly dubbed by Lombardi as "The Mad Russian" and the coach added that "he's so big they had to spoon feed him with a steam shovel. And he's still a baby yet."

Lauded By Pont

Kostelnik packs close to 260 pounds on his 6-4 frame and he's only 20 years old. "Wait'll he grows up," Lombardi chuckled. He's in this season's North-South game. He has a fine reputation as a pass rusher and pursuit man.

Johnny Pont, the one time Packer halfback who coaches at Cinny, says the big tackle has "a great future in professional football." Kostelnik also has been drafted by Buffalo, but he has told the Packers that he'd like to play in Green Bay.

Nugent is a rugged 9-9 man. Drafted by Denver in the AFL, Nugent has "an outside chance of making it at quarterback," Vince said. He was chosen chiefly for his defensive ability but scouts report that he's an excellent thrower.

Lesage, a 235-pounder, likely will get his start at offensive guard due to good speed. He's known for his line backing. Novak will also try his hand at offensive guard and possibly a bit of line backing.

A Tight End

Bolkins is a lean giant at 6-5 and 225. He'll toil as a tight end. He has good hands and is noted for his blocking. Johnson is a hard-nosed running back who packs about 185 pounds. He's a 9-9 runner and also kicks extra points and field goals.

Most of the clubs started to draft juniors at times after the first two or three rounds. The

Bays' Late Dash Salvaged Some Prestige for State Sports Teams

BY DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

From the outset of 1960, when Wisconsin was clobbered in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, the state's major sports representatives fared pretty badly in national competition. Then along came the Green Bay Packers and their dramatic late dash to salvage some prestige.

The Packers' tremendous showing in capturing the National Football League's Western Division championship for the first time in 16 years completely overshadowed such failures as the Wisconsin and Marquette football teams, the Milwaukee Braves and the Milwaukee Falcons.

Appeared Out

Green Bay, the NFL doormat just two years ago before Vince Lombardi took over as coach and general manager, appeared hazy from the title race as late as Thanksgiving Day. However, the Packers rebounded and swept three straight on the road for an 8-4 record and the division crown.

The Wisconsin football team touched off a string of bitter disappointments when it was humiliated to the tune of 44-8 by Washington on the first day of the year. The New Year's hangover continued through the 1960 season as the Badgers finished last in defense of the Big Ten championship. Wisconsin's record was 2-5 in conference play and 4-5 overall.

There were several major casualties on the Wisconsin sports front during 1960.

The Badgers gave up intercollegiate boxing after 23 years following the untimely death of senior Charlie Mohr, who was injured fatally in a final round bout of the NCAA championships in the UW field house in Madison.

The Falcons threw in the sponge and quit the International Hockey League after absorbing heavy financial losses early in the 1960-61 campaign.

Crushing Blow

Then came the crushing blow. On Dec. 9, Marquette announced the dropping of football and track. Financial losses, including some $50,000 in football this season as the Warriors won only three of nine games, was blamed by the university.

teams have a problem in that some of the players have been named by AFL clubs already. Some of these were selected just in case the AFL has trouble surviving.

The Packers are due to keep an eye on "futures" in the windup of the draft today.

Only one player from a state school was named in the early draft. That was Ron Miller, the Badger quarterback who was chosen on the third round by Los Angeles. Miller is a junior eligible since his class will graduate next June.

Italian Foils Aussie Sweep of Challenge Round

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Neale Fraser's game knee went bad on him today and Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli pulled out a last match singles victory which foiled an Australian sweep of the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

Playing in top form and fighting for every point, the baby-faced Roman defeated Australia's limping Wimbledon champion, 11-9, 6-1, 1-6, 6-2, after Rod Laver had given Australia its fourth straight point by cutting down the giant Orlando Sirola, 9-7, 6-2, 6-3.

Final Score 4-1

This made the final score of the series 4-1 in favor of the Australians. There were 5,000 empty seats in the 17,000-capacity White City stands for the final two matches which had no way of reversing the result.

The cup was clinched by the Aussies Tuesday, giving them the trophy for the ninth time in the last 11 years.

Shortly before taking the court against Pietrangeli, Fraser disclosed that doctors had suggested an operation on his knee which buckled on him in the practice week before the challenge round.

Even though hobbled, Fraser mustered enough fight to take the third set with the loss of only one game when Pietrangeli relaxed the pressure.

Bradley Decisions Drake, 83 to 77, In Overtime Tilt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There is going to be some tugging and pulling among the nation's college basketball powers; before the week is out. That's for sure.

The situation in New York's Holiday Festival shapes up as a battle of giants after Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked team in the current Associated Press poll, third-ranked St. Bonaventure and seventh-ranked St. John's all emerged victorious Tuesday. Then add Utah to the list and there certainly are fireworks aplenty brewing.

Off the tournament trail, second-ranked Bradley had to go into overtime to beat Drake 83-77 Tuesday night while St. Louis ranked eighth, and fifth-ranked Louisville warmed up for their Friday night clash with victories. St. Louis won over Southern Methodist 74-50 and Louisville easily dumped Brigham Young 85-67.

The victory sets up a terrific duel Thursday between Lucas and Co. and St. John's All America Terry Jackson, who tallied 19 against Providence, and his mates White Hall and LeRoy Ellis.

11 NFL First-Round Draft Picks To Play in Shrine East-West Tilt

UW's Wiesner Will Start at Fullback For Bruhn's Squad

BY JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—College football stars considered the best bets for success in the professional ranks will battle here Saturday in the 36th annual Shrine East-West game.

Eleven of the first 15 first round draft choices of the National Football League Tuesday are listed on the Shrine game rosters, seven for the East and four for the West.

Tommy Mason of Tulane, the first man picked in the draft and chosen by the new Minnesota Vikings, starts at left halfback for the East.

Packer Choices

Two other No. 1 draft choices open in that backfield—Tom Matte of Ohio State, picked by Baltimore, at quarterback, and Herb Adderley of Michigan State, a Green Bay choice, at the other halfback.

Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh, first pick of the Chicago Bears, will be offensive center for the East and start at end in the defensive alignment.

Ken Rice of Auburn and Joe Ruzenski of Illinois, chosen first by St. Louis and Washington respectively.

Bernie Casey of Bowling Green, one of three players the San Francisco 49ers got in the first round, will alternate at both halfback positions.

Two other 49er choices, quarterback Bill Kilmer and halfback Bill Barnes of the West, Jim Johnson, brother of coach-named these starting backfield linemen champion Rader, start on for the game.

For the East on offense: Matte, Marlin McKeever of Southern California, Adderley, and Tom Wiesner, the man chosen first by the Los Angeles Rams.

Raymond N. LeVee, architect, and Oudenhoven will be asked to attend the board meeting Jan. 17. According to the terms of the contract, LeVee is to supervise the construction.

of continued progress in the future. What failure of the industry would have meant to the state can be realized from the results of a study made recently. Of the 24 Wisconsin communities with pulp and paper mills, nine of them were completely dependent upon the mills. These pulp and paper workers represent about 10 per cent of Wisconsin's employed workers.

"Wisconsin once supplied much of the nation's newsprint. Now there is no newsprint product in the state and the one paper mill in the state owned by a news company, the Flambeau Paper Division of the Kansas City Star Co. at Park Falls, now devotes its entire output to higher grade paper products. Newsprint production in Wisconsin took it on the chin in the early 1900s when tariffs were removed from the huge newsprint production of Canadian paper mills. Rocking with the blow, that part of the Wisconsin paper industry converted to different types of paper and rebuilt its business with other paper products.

Specialty, Fine Papers

In the late 1900s another challenge presented itself. The new southern paper mills with cheaper pulpwood and labor costs and higher volume began expanding furiously. With an attractive price advantage on coarser papers such as kraft and butcher, these southern mills all but swept Wisconsin's big markets away again.

Once more technical know-how and smart management rescued the Wisconsin industry. The state's mills turned from manufacture of coarse cheap paper and began to concentrate on the more expensive specialty and "fine" papers, such as high quality writing and printing papers, blueprint and mimeograph

Catholic Church Thanks Faiths For Support

Protestant, Jewish Leaders Back Roman Belief in Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has expressed gratitude to Protestant and Jewish leaders who defended it during the 1960 presidential campaign.

A year-end report yesterday by the National Catholic Welfare Conference spoke of the year as "a prosperous, if stormy" one. Commenting on the campaign which saw a Catholic elected president for the first time, the report said:

"Hundreds of thousands of pamphlets were distributed across the country maintaining that a man must have divided loyalty if he is Catholic as well as American."

"Church officials, faced with the decision whether to engage in open controversy to answer the attacks, for the most part chose silence."

"The silence proved beneficial when Protestant and Jewish leaders moved forward to repudiate the attacks, and repeatedly asked that the man and his policy rather than his religion be the deciding factor in determining the vote."

Maxim Dies

When the vote came, the political maxim that a Catholic could not be elected to the presidency had died—and Catholics, whether or not they voted for John F. Kennedy, were grateful.

The Welfare Conference is an agency of American bishops which coordinates common activities of the Catholic Church in this country. It reported these figures on church growth during the year:

- 1. The Catholic population rose to more than 40 million, an increase of 3.4 per cent. Protestant church growth rate was recently estimated at 1.7 per cent.
- 2. The Catholic school system had 5.3 million students, and has grown to the largest private system in the world.
- 3. Record high figures were reported for adult conversions to the church—146,000.

COLITIS AND BOWEL TROUBLE TRACED TO NERVES

Colitis occurs chiefly in women (65 per cent) and is characterized by pain, diarrhea, constipation, and blood and mucus in the stool.

Dr. Bill, professor of Pathology at the University of Minnesota, states that colitis is a form of nervous disease and that the disease can be helped by a program of relaxation.

The disease can progress until the bowel becomes completely paralyzed and infected by the bacteria normally found in the intestines. Bacterial infection merely a secondary condition brought on by lowered resistance in that area. This condition, if not attended to, can ultimately result in cancer.

Since retirement from the Atomic Energy Commission in 1945, Zuckert has been in private law practice in Washington.

Kennedy's selection of Connally, Fort Worth, Tex., attorney, was announced Tuesday night.

The new secretary of the Navy was campaign manager this year for Lyndon Johnson in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Connally — a distant relative of former U. S. Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat — served as Johnson's administrative assistant when Johnson was first elected to the House in 1959. When Johnson moved to the Senate in 1949, Connally again was administrative assistant.

Connally joined the Navy in 1941 as an ensign. He was assigned first to the office of secretary of the Navy James Forrestal and later to combat duty in the Pacific. He was discharged as a lieutenant commander in 1946 after being awarded the Bronze Star and the Legion of Merit.

Connally received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1941, and was admitted to the Texas bar at the age of 21.

After leaving the Navy he organized and became general manager of radio station KVET in Austin, Tex. In 1940 he managed Johnson's successful campaign for the Senate. In 1956 he was vice chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Kennedy is continuing to divide his time between relaxation and preparation for taking over the reins of government Jan. 20. His only announced engagement today was with officials of a New York firm which has turned out an educational documentary film on the White House.

Keith R. Lochner, 32, of Fort Wayne, Ind., came here with Gary Richter, 21, of Fort Wayne, to be married Tuesday.

Indiana officials called Coldwater police to tell them a warrant had been issued for Lochner's arrest on a charge of aggravated assault.

Police checked the county clerk's office and learned the couple was headed for the Lutheran church. On the way, Lochner asked directions of two policemen and got them to act as witnesses.

Police called the church and Lochner was arrested after the ceremony. He was lodged in jail as he headed back to Indiana and the policemen returned to their post.

A mass demonstration of strikers was staged this morning in Brussels without incident. The capital itself appeared under virtual military siege. Policemen were camped in the Central Public park opposite parliament and the royal palace, and in front of the opera house.

Rallies and demonstrations by the striking, 700,000-member Socialist unions were countered by calls from the Catholic Socialist Christian unions to their 300,000 members to remain steadfast at work.

The Socialists launched the walkout eight days ago in protest against Eyskens' plans for tax increases and social welfare cuts because of the country's financial setback in the Congo. # Dr. Tom Dooley Back in U. S.

Barely Able to Walk as He Enters New York Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Tom Dooley, in great pain and barely able to walk, returned from the Orient Tuesday night and entered the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

Dr. Dooley, 33, the American jungle doctor of Laos, was stricken with cancer in 1959, and had been described as cured after surgery.

Recent tests in Hong Kong showed that he was suffering from a degeneration of the bone structure of the spine—not officially determined as cancerous.

Dr. Dooley appeared in Appleton in October, 1959, during which he discussed his medical work in Laos in several private meetings and a public fund raising talk at the Lawrence Memorial Chapel.

Dr. Dooley, clad in pajamas beneath an overcoat, could only shuffle down a ramp at Idlewild Airport, where he was met by his brother, Malcolm, executive director of Medico, a non-profit medical organization founded by the doctor. The organization gives medical assistance to underdeveloped nations.

Serious Rift in Israel Cabinet

JERUSALEM (AP)—Exoner-ation of former defense minister Pinhas Lavon has caused a possible serious rift in Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's cabinet, authorities said today.

Ben-Gurion precipitated the split by refusing to join in approving the findings of an investigation committee that on Sunday cleared Lavon of blame for the censorship-shrouded "security" operations resulted from Negroes registering and voting in numbers in the counties for the first time.

Justice Department suits are pending in U. S. District Court at on's stand. The sources said, and Memphis charging a total of more than 150 white residents and four banks in the two counties with economic reprisals against Negroes. Both counties have a 60-40 ratio of Negroes to white persons.

Police said Vogt told them he had been selling Christmas trees in the upper West Side when he saw Guitarrri "lugging a big tree." He said he thought the boy would "be an easy touch," and followed him into the building, offering to help carry the tree.

By Vogt's account, as reported by police, the two went up in an elevator to the sixth floor. There Vogt demanded the boy's money.

Stabbed in Back

Vogt said he pulled out a hunting knife. Guitarrri tried to run, but Vogt grabbed him and stabbed him repeatedly in the back.

Vogt then ran to the roof—with out taking the 50 cents from the boy's pocket—and made his way across the roof tops to his own apartment building.

Robb said Vogt was arrested because of complaints from many boys in the neighborhood that he had been extorting money from them by threats.

Vogt has a lengthy police record that includes conviction in 1958 for molesting a 12-year-old girl, and charges of mugging, petty and grand larceny.

Tent City May Grow

Negroes Fight Eviction for Vote Registration

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A line of tents to house evicted sharecroppers, defended by Negroes as an emergency measure and denounced by white residents as propaganda, was expected to grow today.

Negro leaders said the tent city, now housing eight families, was set up to keep a roof over sharecroppers who lost their leases because they registered to vote. More families were scheduled to move in today.

White farmers said the leases were terminated because mechanization replaced the sharecroppers. They said the Negroes were given plenty of advance notice.

The 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati will hear a government plea Thursday to stop eviction of 700 sharecroppers from Fayette and adjacent Haywood County farms.

Refused Case

Last week, U. S. Dist. Judge Marion S. Boyd of Memphis refused the plea on grounds that the 1957 Civil Rights Act does not empower him to rule on contract and property rights. Most sharecroppers work on yearly contracts with landowners.

The Justice Department Civil Rights Division claims the evictions resulted from Negroes registering and voting in numbers in the counties for the first time.

Justice Department suits are pending in U. S. District Court at on's stand. The sources said, and Memphis charging a total of more than 150 white residents and four banks in the two counties with economic reprisals against Negroes. Both counties have a 60-40 ratio of Negroes to white persons.

BUDGET OUT OF BALANCE?

... here's sure way to solve your problem!

Budgets-out-of-balance probably cause more family arguments than almost anything else! Usually the trouble is that the amount budgeted for SAVINGS has a way of simply disappearing into the thin air. The argument then is about how or why this happened and who was responsible! The solution is as simple as this: If you would make it a practice to DEPOSIT your budgeted savings FIRST thing every payday, they couldn't disappear, and there'd be nothing to argue about. In the interests of family harmony and a growing bank account, always do your saving BEFORE you do your spending... starting very next payday!

Tax Holiday Is Proposed

A group of union leaders, including Andrew J. Biemiller, AFL-CIO legislative director, has proposed a tax holiday to pump more purchasing power into the national economy.

The union leaders fear the jobless total of about 4 million workers will grow to 6 million by February. Under their tax forgiveness proposal individuals would be relieved of $2.5 billion per month for a period of two months in the expectation that they would spend this money to keep business going and get the old economic machine humming again. Under their plan, the individuals would not be expected to make up the payment later in the year.

They also propose that the federal government set up a temporary unemployment insurance plan to benefit those workers who's state benefit rights have been exhausted and those who never qualified under the eligibility plan. This liberalization of the job insurance program would cost an estimated $2.5 billion. Further they propose to expand the social security benefits also on an emergency basis by a 10 per cent old age and disability payment under the federal social security act. This is estimated to cost $750,000,000 annually.

Thus the program appears to call for additional expenditures of $3.25 billion for emergency unemployment insurance and old age disability payments. The money will have to come from somewhere and in view of the fact that the federal government is operating with no important surplus, and the social security plan is no more than holding its own, it may be supposed that the money would have to be provided by taxes but this program calls for temporary reduction of taxes amounting to about $5 billion.

Even if all of this money should be pumped back into the economy it is doubtful if it would result in expansion of business in anything like the amount needed to provide jobs for any important percentage of the 4 million now said to be out of work.

On the other hand, business itself may be said to be somewhat in agreement with the general proposal that the present tax program is preventing expansion needed to provide more jobs. The claim of business is that the depreciation allowance under the present program is insufficient to encourage construction of more buildings or the addition of equipment. A study just completed at Fordham University strongly supports the position of the businessmen in asking for a change in the depreciation policies under the U. S. tax laws. The Rev. William T. Hogan, S. J., and Frank P. Koelbe of the school's industrial economics program, say that nearly one-third of the nation's production plant and equipment is obsolete. They point out that if the present depreciation policy is continued $60 billion worth of plant and equipment will become obsolete by 1970.

The study says further that presently $96 billion would be required to modernize the industrial plants of the nation. The prospect of an additional $60 billion being added to the total now required means that the American industrial plant is in a very serious position. Even so these figures do not take into account the capital that will be needed if the industrial plant is to be expanded to provide jobs for 13,500,000 additional workers during the next ten years.

The Fordham study proposes liberalization of present depreciation allowances so that the true cost of the wear and tear on capital equipment can be written off before taxes. If that is done it is believed that investment will be encouraged and additional investments made to build the modern plant necessary to keep industry rolling.

Quite obviously both labor and business are looking at the federal tax program as one of the chief obstacles to industrial development needed to provide jobs. Both want tax relief but their views as to how it should be done are completely opposite.

The final decision will be up to Congress. If the solution is to be successful quite obviously the money to be spent in stimulating business must be provided and unless government spending can be reduced taxes will be higher.

A New Threat to Motorists

The bickering and quarreling between the Wisconsin Highway Patrol on one hand, and the sheriffs and county traffic officers on the other, now has reached a point where it can be said that it is contributing to the high Wisconsin accident rate.

James Karns, head of the state motor vehicle department, in presenting his budget request to Gov. Nelson, reported the number of accidents on the state patrolled roads is being reduced while they are increasing on other public highways. Nevertheless Karns said he is not asking for more state patrolmen because his previous proposals in that direction have "degenerated into squabbling." Karns did not specifically mention the opposition of sheriffs and county traffic officers but it was well understood by everyone that he had them in mind.

While this continuing struggle can be eliminated only by the legislature and the governor, there has been no move on their part to take action. Some legislative leaders instead of seeking a solution to the problem have declared that they will refuse further action in this field until the county and state enforcement groups end their differences. Evidently their idea is that if they just look the other way long enough the problem will go away. On the other hand, it long has been clear to almost everyone in the state that this quarrel has been going on ever since the organization of the state highway patrol. Karns is asking for more men for truck tax collection, weight law compliance and to improve the driver licensing examination services. While his report indicates that more patrolmen would be useful in saving lives on Wisconsin highways, he has asked for none though he has suggested that the governor or legislature itself might very well propose such an expansion.

The Karns report indicates that motor vehicle mileage in Wisconsin has climbed 4 per cent during the past year and the total auto registration is rising at a rate of about 50,000 annually. Wisconsin's list of dead and injured on the highways also is climbing rapidly. All of this indicates that the state's budgeting should be based upon its needs in making the highways safe and expediting traffic. It should not be based upon the notion of a small group of people as to what is best for them with respect to their jobs.

'Brilliant Failures'

A specialist in aptitude testing declares that the person who may be recognized as "a brilliant failure" very often is the victim of too many aptitudes.

Johnson O'Connor, who heads the Johnson-O'Connor Research Foundation and Human Engineering Laboratory in New York, says that success in a college career might be expected to increase in proportion to the number of aptitudes an individual possesses, but that the opposite frequently was the case. The student with multiple aptitudes often performs brilliantly through high school but on entering college is completely lost. In college such students may switch fields frequently and are likely to drop out without obtaining a degree, according to O'Connor.

Those people who should be the most brilliant of all often become completely lost. Even the experts in aptitude testing don't know what to do about them. It was pointed out that students with a maximum of five strong aptitudes frequently enjoy great success in school and elsewhere and it was noted that success increases as the number of aptitudes rise up to the maximum. However, students with more strong aptitudes have an increasingly difficult time at college, until "the 9-aptitude man almost never graduates."

It is O'Connor's opinion that the brilliant child succeeds easily in kindergarten, through the grades and in high school, so easily in fact that he never really learns to work. On the other hand, a person with one aptitude almost always learns to work from the beginning and that is a great advantage. The many aptitude person is apt to work at something until he finds a problem and then turns to something else easier in another field of interest, thus never gets down to the difficult business of solving his problem. If this practice follows him after he leaves college and even on the job he may find it easier to turn from one difficult problem facing him to something easier and more pleasant in another field where he has special skill. The result is a sort of talented tramp who never gets anywhere.

Winnie the Pooh

Among the books touted this Christmas season was a child's story still treasured by adults but not in its new language. A. A. Milne's tales of his son and his stuffed, beloved animal companions has been translated into Latin.

As some reviewers put it, "publication in ancient Rome turned out to be impractical" . . . but Pooh has been a classic for so long, it's about time he showed up in a classical tongue . . . What better gift for the child who has everything? And for just any old reader with two years of Latin in his past and Junior's copy of Winnie-the-Pooh in his other hand . . . a contribution to nursery literature."

The author, Alexander Lenard, a Hungarian linguist who now teaches and farms in Brazil, has not explained his motivation for the translation. But the current enthusiasm among critics seems to come from a nostalgic hearkening back to the Latin classes which they professed to (and probably did) hate at the time.

One thing is certain. The translation offers a challenge to the Latin scholar of 15 or 50 which is a lot more fun than The Gallic Wars or Caesar.

Ethiopia Just Realizing There Is a World Beyond Mountains

WASHINGTON — Ethiopia, the 3,000-year-old eastern African kingdom recently troubled by revolt, has only gradually come to realize that a world worth knowing lies beyond its jagged mountains.

Its peoples, numbering 22,000,000, have long lived in a tribal and semi-feudal society, suspicious of outsiders and strongly resistant to change. Since Haile Selassie returned to the throne after World War II, however, Ethiopia has made substantial progress, the National Geographic Society says.

Taking the portfolio of minister of education for himself, Haile Selassie has expanded and modernized the school system. Young Ethiopians are being educated on a scale undreamed of a few years ago. Foreign technicians and advisers train Ethiopians in modern techniques, while Ethiopians go abroad to study the ways of industrial civilization.

The Emperor has encouraged outside business and aid from the United States. A modern sugar refinery has gone up; a new power plant, factories, and office buildings are being constructed in the capital, Addis Ababa.

But the economy still sharply contrasts old and new. More than 90 per cent of the people engage in subsistence agriculture. The donkey continues to vie with the airplane as a favorite means of transportation.

Distances are great. Superimposed on a map of the United States, Ethiopia would stretch from Maine to Virginia; from New York to Iowa. Its rich farming land is as fertile as that of the Russian Ukraine and the American Midwest.

Farm experts believe Ethiopia could become the granary for southwest Asia, but coffee is the biggest export now. Ethiopia may have been the original home of coffee. The name is said to have come from the old province of Kaffa where the shrub still grows wild.

Besides coffee, Ethiopians like to drink tej, a gold-colored liquor made of honey. Their favorite dish is wat, made of meat and pepper. Often, however, Ethiopians must give it up, for members of the kingdom's Christian church may not eat any animal product — meat, fat, eggs, or dairy products — either on Wednesday and Friday or during the 56-day Lent and other fasts. In all, the most pious Ethiopians may fast about 250 days a year.

The Ethiopian Church, related to the Coptic Church of Egypt, holds to the monophysite doctrine that Christ had a single nature instead of being both divine and human, true God and true man. Disagreement over this point caused bloodshed in the early centuries of Christianity. The Ethiopians maintained their beliefs even when northern neighbors were converted to Islam.

Ethiopia is an old country. Scholars believe the kingdom was established when Athens was still in infancy. Homer called the Ethiopians "burnt-faced men" — the "furthest of mankind."

The Ethiopian Queen of Sheba, according to the Bible, traveled to Jerusalem to visit King Solomon "with a very great train, with camels that bore spices, and very much gold, and precious stones." Tradition holds that after her return home the Queen gave birth to Menelik I, from whom Haile Selassie traces his ancestry.

Haile Selassie, whose titles include that of Conquering Lion of Judah, keeps 40 lions at the imperial palace. Recently he romped with a lion in his garden for the benefit of Nathaniel T. Kenney, a member of the National Geographic senior staff. The Emperor has been a member of the National Geographic Society for nearly 40 years.

'Military Prestige' Not 'Prestige' Lost by U. S.

From The Indianapolis News

The 1950 election is over, but the campaign issue of "prestige" is still with us. And it is still being treated as a matter of supplying bigger appropriations for our military services.

Sen. Stuart Symington, for example, in urging a shake-up in our national defenses, has suggested America spend still more money on arms so that we might properly hold up our heads overseas.

As we pointed out during the campaign, there is no question that foreign nations have begun to treat the United States with diminishing respect. And there are numerous reports that the so-called "uncommitted" world believes the Communists are on the ascendant, that America's star is fading.

What is the reason?

Lack of arms? We think not. We believe the record clearly shows the United States is su-

Does State Back Washburne?

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 29, 1899.

Are the people of Wisconsin prepared to endorse the action of their representatives in Congress? (On the nay vote of Mr. Washburne against the proposal to compromise with the South)

Are the people of Wisconsin determined to press the "irrepressible conflict" to a bloody termination? For such is the inevitable consequence of dissolution of the Union.

We already have had a foretaste of its results in the destruction of our trade and commerce, in the suspension of our manufactures, in the general prostration of industrial enterprises and the derangement of our currency and finance.

These are but premonitors of the general catastrophe which would follow the breaking up of our government. If the great calamity is to be averted, the people must move in the matter at once and indicate to their representatives, in a manner that cannot be misunderstood and will not be disregarded, that they must not plunge the country into revolution to gratify their own personal ambition.

19 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Dec. 27, 1950

Winter tightened its icy grip on Appleton sending the mercury down to 15 below zero as numbing cold with readings as low as -36 hit the midwest and east.

Approval of a $139,700 improvement and expansion program for the Outagamie County airport was announced by Gov. Oscar Rennebohm. The governor's approval was necessary for payment of state and federal aids.

Dr. J. Edward Todd, assistant dean at the Institute of Paper Chemistry and in charge of student personnel, was to speak on "The Method of Selection of Institute Personnel" at the gen-

Personal Property Tax Far From Repeal

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Every serious study of the Wisconsin system of personal property taxation in modern times has concluded that it should be significantly changed, or done away with altogether.

And so there was very little surprise when the recent report of the governor's tax revision advisory commission contained, as one of its major recommendations, the elimination of about two-thirds of the total personal property tax levied in the state yearly.

The report asked for the exemption from the levy of the local assessor of merchants' and manufacturers' stock inventories and the livestock of Wisconsin farmer. Thus about the only important item of any significance that would remain on the personal property tax proposals that have been filed rolls would be the furniture and fixtures and machinery of commerce and industry.

This is only one of many such proposals that have been filled in the legislative libraries in Madison over the years, and probably would be worth no more consideration than its nearly forgotten predecessors except that the current authors also provide a means for achieving their goal.

HOW TO DO IT

All previous legislatures have figuratively shrugged when logical and persuasive arguments against the personal property tax were offered.

"Sure," legislators said in effect, "but how will we replace the money?"

The exemptions now proposed would amount to something over $50,000,000, and more as the years go on and property tax rates tend to increase. To eliminate that generous chunk of money from the municipal treasuries would mean such a shudder throughout Wisconsin as to make it politically impossible.

The present commission suggests, in effect, that a part of the revenue of a moderate sales tax be used to replace the personal property tax yield that would be lost to localities — and much of the remainder for the alleviation of real property tax rates.

It is a fair guess that the average businessman in the state, and especially the retailer, is not anxious for the enactment of a sales tax. For one thing, it will make of him an unworried tax collector. But it is a reasonable guess also that if he has any assurance that his burdensome and frequently erratic personal property tax is cut or repealed, he will entertain the sales tax gladly enough.

THE POLITICS

The personal property tax has been called the worst tax ever invented. No serious student of taxation doubts that it is unfair and discriminatory. It falls with an arbitrarily unequal burden. It bears no relation to the politically sacred concept of ability to pay.

The merchant or manufacturer who is losing money is as liable for its heavy exaction as is the prosperous neighbor. Indeed, that prosperous neighbor may very well be able to maneuver his inventory to escape assessment altogether, or he may have an exemption voted by a complacent legislature for no very good reason.

But legislation does not always respond to demonstrable discrimination or inequity. The fact of the matter is that the personal property tax is borne by a very small fraction of the community — a minute proportion of the voting public — and that relief measures have comparatively little appeal as a consequence.

There was an articulate minority on this revision commission, in fact, that protested the whole idea of personal property tax relief — in the face of voluminous evidence of its capricious effect and discriminatory character. Thus it seems a good guess that the Wisconsin businessman planning his operations and his budget for the next couple of years would be wise to count his personal property tax liability for yet a while longer. Persuasive as this new proposal is, it is a long way from enactment.

School Problems Listed by Mann

Annexations, Teacher Shortage To Face Incoming Superintendent

Appleton's new superintendent that no promises are made when of schools will face problems in a teacher is selected for the buildings, teachers, libraries, curriculum, annexations, summer school and several other areas. John P. Mann reported Tuesday at the last Board of Education meeting of his 16-year tenure as superintendent.

Annexations of territory to Appleton are creating a question of junior high school services on the west side, Mann said. The board's 5-year building request to the City Council includes two elementary schools and an addition to another, a north side junior high and a south side high school.

Mann recommended that the board continue using services of local architects, but that instead of hiring them on the basis of rotation, comparative studies be made to indicate who plans most economical and serviceable buildings.

Special Subsidies
Because of difficulty in finding teachers for slow learners, some interested teachers should be given subsidies to go to summer school to qualify for special certification, Mann said. The same should apply to preparation of a teacher for a class that will be needed for emotionally disturbed children, he recommended.

Two junior high principals, a senior high principal and an assistant senior high principal will be needed in the next four years because of retirements and a new school, Mann reported, recommending that incoming Supt. Royce E. Kurtz develop an internship plan to prepare teachers to take these jobs.

Several teachers are preparing for elementary administration posts, Mann said. He pointed out

Independents Score Gains at ROK Polls

SEOUL—Major gains were scored in South Korean local elections yesterday by independents, many of them members of ousted President Syngman Rhee's discredited Liberal party. Nine independent candidates were elected mayor. Premier of the man and the spirit he generated are indelibly cast upon elected 12 candidates, and the New Democratic party won with 5. Independents did even better in its many appreciations to John P. Mann, superintendent of schools. Three were elected, along with their 24 Democrats and 3 New Democrats.

Americans Show Holiday Kindness When Norwegian Guest Gets Sick

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CHRISTMAS — How long ago it seems! — came to our house violently and frighteningly because our friend and house guest turned terribly ill, but a new world opened for him and for me. Perhaps you would like to hear about it.

House

Shows Life, Buildings

Briefly, I showed him around the Fox River Valley. We visited some of my friends so that he would better understand what we often call "the American way of life." our architecture in which he is interested, and whatever it seemed to me he would like to see.

When Christmas morning arrived, our friend had turned very ill. He remained abed because he said, "I didn't want you to have your Christmas spoiled."

But when I called him, it was immediately clear that he was very ill and completely helpless. He had to be hospitalized.

Now I must digress briefly to discuss a nearly universal European opinion of "the average American."

Most Europeans believe that Americans are generally brash, crass and commercial; that we are superficial in our thinking and our manner.

I do not know if our Norse friend ever had such a thought for he is too courteously a gentle-hurried to the hospital with some of his fine bakery.

We're Not So Bad

Bernard Spreutels, also a member of the tour, also visited Martin as soon as he learned of his illness.

Others — as the news gets about — go to see this visitor from Europe. And each of them says something like this:

"I wouldn't want him to think he was alone and without friends in a strange country."

It just could be that Asphaug will return to his country — let us hope in good health — and tell his fellow Europeans that Americans are not so bad, really.

W. H. Brummund Named Legal Counsel for AAL

Walter H. Brummund, 310 River Drive, has been appointed legal counsel for Aid Association for Lutherans, according to Walter L. Rugland, president.

Brummund will be administrative head of AAL's legal division. He is a member of the Appleton Law firm of Brummund and Froehlich and will also continue to practice with that law firm. Otto C. Rentner, member of the board of directors and past president of AAL, will continue to serve as general counsel.

Brummund was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a B.A. degree, and law school with a L.L.B. degree (1931); and took additional studies at Harvard Law School.

He is author of a monograph "Estate Planning with Profit Sharing Plans," and other professional articles. He is past president of the University of Wisconsin Law Alumni Association and the Outagamie County Bar Association, and a member of state, American, and international bar associations.

Wrightstown to Have No Railway Express

Local Railway Express Agency service to Wrightstown will be discontinued, the Public Service Commission ordered today.

Other communities to lose service are McFarland, Sun Prairie and Verona in Dane County.

Free Nurse, TV

One kind lady with nursing experience offered to be his nurse, free of charge, from 6 a.m. until 1 p.m. each day as long as he needed a nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Rheo Riopelle telephoned messages to him and visited him at the hospital and were instrumental in getting a television set for him to watch.

Architect Quentin (Curly) Hoffman visited him and brought reading materials. Hoffman also presented Martin with the blueprints for his own home.

To Get Colored Slides

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Feser will visit him before this day is over, and have asked me what they might do to cheer him and comfort him.

Robert W. Surplice, an architect who had not met our friend, learned that Martin was interested in American architecture. Surplice is assembling colored slides of interior and exterior views of American homes. He will visit Martin with a slide projector and discuss the various forms of architecture.

Karl Emmel, one of the tourists, learned about Martin's serious illness and he — a baker —

Dodge City Syndrome

Attempts at Fast Draw Causing Many Injuries

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A Mayo Clinic study indicates a bath soon after surgery, adult that the child ulcer sufferer has histories of childhood ulcers, and a 50-50 chance of ulcer symptoms when he becomes an adult, or an adolescent. The Mayo study covered 44 childhood ulcer patients in a follow-up study at ages 15 to 27.

Dodge City Syndrome

Television westerns have added at least one more hazard to modern life, the American Medical Association reports.

More and more young men are turning up with gunshot wounds in the leg and foot accidentally self-inflicted while practicing the fast draw. The typical case of the fast draw syndrome is the young man "too slow on the draw and too fast with his trigger finger."

Doctors also call it the "Dodge City Syndrome" they point out that gun clubs have sprouted across the nation dedicated to the fast draw. TV programs should go further with realism and show the maiming and invalidism as a warning to those who think violence is good, clean sport, the A.M.A. adds.

Surgery to Bathtub

To get patients back to normal soon after surgery, doctors are now working at leaving wounds unbandaged and letting patients take baths and showers as soon as the day after their operations.

In a test of 100 patients, aged 2 to 78, handled in this way after surgery, St. Louis doctors find no adverse effects on the healing of clean, well-closed wounds. Nurses added patients in their first post-operative bath. No attempt was made to keep soap and water from the wound. Drying the wound was accomplished by blotting with a towel.

Bob Hope Unchanged By Success

Still Has Boyish Enthusiasm for Both Work, Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing makes some men more cynical than success.

It hasn't worked out that way with Bob Hope. After three decades of stardom, he still has the boyish enthusiasm for performing—and living—you find only in the best of the real pros.

He has found some kind of secret springboard of the spirit that keeps him young. But if you compliment the ageless comedian on his youthful effervescence, he grins wryly and says:

"I don't know whether I ought to take a bow—or give my taxidermist credit. When I see some of my old movies on television now, I feel like I have a son I've never met."

Doctors told Bob some time ago he should slow down. He says he has—but it is hard to tell where. He still carries on a busy TV schedule. He has just finished another film, "The Facts of Life," co-starring Lucille Ball. And he still shuttles across the continent to give benefit shows.

Hope also heads a personal business empire which includes investments in a baseball team, a dairy farm, a summer camp, a movie company, two meat packing firms, and oil properties.

"I like to feel good, and I feel better when I'm doing something," he says.

Over the years Bob has starred in every branch of show business—vaudeville, stage, movies, radio and television. But he believes luck plays a big role in every performer's success.

"And finding the right script is the biggest part of that luck," he said. "I could have gone to Hollywood with the wrong script, and still be back in vaudeville."

Asked what had brought him the greatest pleasure in his career, Bob said it had been his missions to combat areas to entertain the troops.

"That was the biggest thrill of my life—to be allowed backstage in the wars," he said soberly.

Happy Nature

Melancholy has become a kind of fashionable badge with many comedians. But Bob doesn't like to complain in public about his private woes.

"I very seldom feel blue," he said. "It's not my nature. Here is Hope's hopeful philosophy: 'Every morning when you wake up and nothing hurts — you've won a big bet. 'You don't realize the meaning of life until your bones start creaking a bit.'"

Bach Works on State Stations

U. W. Professor To Present Series On 'FM Concert'

On the "FM Concert," Tuesday at 8:30 p.m., beginning Jan. 3, 1961, state radio stations will present the complete keyboard works of Johann Sebastian Bach. The weekly concerts will be performed by Prof. Gunnar Johansen of the UW School of Music.

From 1950 to 1953 for the 200th anniversary of the death of Bach, Prof. Johansen played a series of keyboard works on the state stations.

In 1955, he began to record the complete keyboard works of Bach, including many works never previously recorded nor performed in the earlier series. He expects to complete the project during 1961. The series includes all of Bach's music for harpsichord, clavichord and spinet and a number of uncompleted works.

They have been recorded in Johansen's Blue Mounds studio, on a Moor-Bosendorfer double keyboard piano, a Sperrhake concert harpsichord and a Sperrhake clavichord.

The first half hour of each Tuesday evening "FM Concert" will be devoted to the performance of these Bach keyboard works.

A complete listing of the first two-months' programs, may be obtained by writing to Radio Hall, Madison 6, Wis.

3 California Couples To Pioneer in Brazil

Nobu McCarthy, 2 Other Japanese Wives to Follow Former GI Mates

BY BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Three couples from California, including Nobu McCarthy, a Hollywood actress, will set out next spring on a frontier adventure, carving out new lives in the heartland of Brazil.

The husbands are ex-GIs, all successful in their own fields. Dave McCarthy operates a highly imaginative advertising agency. One. Don Jones is a TV network publicist. Fred Higgins runs a bowling equipment store.

All three served with the armed forces in Japan and married Japanese girls. All three see in Brazil the kind of opportunity that was prevalent in this country before the West was won.

Pooled Their Assets

They have pooled their assets to buy 360 acres of virgin land in the highlands 120 miles north of the new capital of Brazil. They have also been granted a 12-acre tract of a growers' organization which is planning fruit trees.

Nobu is the Japanese beauty who came to America as Dave McCarthy's bride and attracted notice with her incongruous name and her performances in films like "Gensha Boy" and "Five Gates to Hell." How does she feel about leaving to live in yet another country?

"If my husband wants to go, I must go," she said. "He is like Japanese husbands. He cannot find a thing around the house without me."

Parents in Brazil

Nobu is not sure how well she will like pioneering in Brazil, but she is pleased at the prospect of being reunited with her family. Her mother and father emigrated to Brazil five years ago and her father is a dress designer in Sao Paulo.

Languages, she admitted, do not come easy to her. She still has the Oriental's problem with L and R and when she says Brazil it somehow comes out Bras-Siera.

"I'm doing much better than when I first came here," she said. "My husband could speak no Japanese, and I knew no English. It could be very embarrassing."

Nobu's husband and his fellow pioneers are not coming on the venture blindly. They have thoroughly researched their chances for success and found that the area they chose is the best for growing all kinds of fruit. It is frost-free with a median temperature of 69 degrees and 68-79 inches of rain. "Brazil is like this country was," she said.

Report Discovery of Strong Magnetic Field

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — An astronomer reported today that he has discovered the strongest magnetic field ever found in nature — 34,000 times stronger than that of earth.

The find was made by Dr. Horace W. Babcock, assistant director of the Mt. Palomar Observatory, with the 200-inch Hale telescope at the observatory.

The magnetic field surrounds a star which is a member of our solar system in the Milky Way galaxy. It has no name but is known to astronomers as HD 21541.

Lawrence Says
Inquiry Shows
Facts on Dillon
Appointment

National Interest
More Important
Than Partisanship

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — Did President Eisenhower really advise the under secretary of state, C. Douglas Dillon, not to accept the President-elect's offer of the secretaryship of the treasury in the new cabinet? What was meant when Mr. Kennedy was reported to have said in a press conference that he understood Mr. Eisenhower had urged Mr. Dillon to accept the post?

The conflict is more apparent than real. It is important to clarify what did happen not only for the benefit of those in this country who are directly affected by treasury policies but for the guidance of foreign governments, particularly since the gold problem will continue to be of paramount importance in the next several months.

After a careful inquiry, this correspondent has ascertained the following to be the facts:

1. President Eisenhower gave friendly counsel to Mr. Dillon and urged him to make sure that he had a clear understanding as to the making of future policies in the treasury. He pointed out some of the difficulties but carefully refrained from making any request that Mr. Dillon should decline the post.

No Objection
2. If the President had made the specific request, Mr. Dillon would not have accepted the post in the new administration. He was free to make his own decision and did not feel it was necessary or proper to transmit to Mr. Kennedy what had been discussed at the White House.

3. The President sees no objection to anybody taking a post in the government at any time if he feels the national interest can be served thereby, but he does express to his friends the caution that so often is necessary when there is important policy to be made. All sorts of conflicting influences are bound to arise in shaping such a policy, and a Cabinet officer is better off if he has assurances in advance that he will be supported by the president.

4. Mr. Dillon has read the Democratic national platform and knows that there are various persons prominent in Kennedy circles who will be pressing for bigger and bigger federal expenditures.

Basic Agreement
But the new secretary's task will be to set forth what seem to him to be sound fiscal policies, irrespective of whether they conform to or conflict with the platform of either national political party. Every Cabinet officer often finds outside advisers trying to tell a president what should be done in a particular department, and if Mr. Kennedy has to tell them that he can't do what they want because his secretary of the treasury objects, it isn't going to disturb Mr. Dillon to be the scapegoat for such turn-downs as the new president may have to give to various economic advisers.

5. Mr. Dillon is convinced that he and the President-elect are in basic agreement on treasury policy. This was revealed officially in Mr. Kennedy's press conference a few days ago at Palm Beach.

6. Published reports that Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson didn't want Mr. Dillon to accept the post are entirely in error, because Mr. Anderson actually urged him to do so.

7. The gold policy of the United States under the new administration will in the main be exactly what was set forth recently in the Anderson-Dillon mission to Bonn, Paris and London. There may be variations due to circumstances that arise in the complex matter of international exchange, but any report that Mr. Dillon doesn't see eye to eye with Mr. Anderson is erroneous. Their mission was merely weeks in preparation, and although Mr. Dillon didn't accompany Mr. Anderson on his final visit to Augusta to talk with President Eisenhower before going abroad, this was of no significance because the policies already had been laid down and the high officials of the state department, including Mr. Dillon, were in entire agreement with the treasury.

Tries to End Fears
To a large extent the selection of Mr. Dillon to be secretary of the treasury is understandably political. Mr. Kennedy knows that the principal attacks by the Republicans during the campaign and the fears expressed since have been concerned with possible unsoundness in fiscal policy. The President-elect wanted to give assurances that he really means to maintain fiscal soundness. What better way to dispel fears than to pick a man from Mr. Eisenhower's administration, even if it opens up from time to

$600 Damage
Set in 2-Car
Kimberly Mishap

KIMBERLY — More than $600 damage was reported, but no one was injured in a two-car accident on E. Maes Avenue and Wilson Street about 8:55 p.m. Sunday, according to village police. The accident report indicates a car driven by Jerome DeBruin, 20, 126 S. Pine St., Kimberly, was going west on Maes and about to turn left onto Wilson when the car was struck by a vehicle driven by George Verkuilen, 19, 297 Lorn St., Kimberly.

Police Report
Metal Detector
Taken From Car

KAUKAUNA — John Palarski, 1511 N. Lawe St., reported to police a metal detector had been stolen from his car while it was parked in the business district during the weekend.

Palarski is a veterinarian and the item stolen is used to detect metal objects in animals. It is of little use to anyone other than a veterinarian. It is valued at about $400, according to police.

Police theorize, the person who took the item will throw it away. Residents were asked to call if they find a round, aluminum case with a set of earphones inside.

Every administration is governed by the facts that face it at a given moment. Theory can be espoused by the academicians, but there comes a time when a condition and not a theory faces a president as well as his secretary of the treasury. And that's the main reason why Douglas Dillon, a Republican, was drafted, and why in the national interest he accepted the post of secretary of the treasury in the Democratic administration.

Retirement Plan
For Employees Takes
$4,700 of Increase

KIMBERLY — Village government in 1961 will cost $31,478 or $4,825 more than the $26,653 for operating in 1960.

The major share of the increase is due to expense for the state retirement plan for village employees which will cost $4,700 in 1961. The retirement plan was approved earlier this year and adopted effective 1961.

Nine categories remained the same, increases were noted in three brackets and decreases in two. Remaining the same were village board at $3,300, village board expense at $350, village president's salary at $900, clerk-treasurer expense at $1,000, board of review at $168, law expenses at $500, engineer costs at $200, police justice at $450 and auditing at $300.

Other Items
Also remaining constant were hall operation at $3,000, board of appeals and planning commission at $150, insurance and bonds at $560 and area planning at $1,875. Social security expenses were raised from $2,600 to $3,000, the clerk-treasurer salary was raised from $4,700 to $4,900, the village assessor salary was raised from $4,300 to $4,500 and cost of elections was dropped from $175 to $125. This is due to fewer elections in 1961. Janitor expense for the village hall was cut from $2,000 to $1,500.

Coronet Ball Introduces Six Young Women to Butte des Morts Members

BY KATHY REARDON
Post-Crescent Society Editor

Against a background of traditional Christmas color, six young women last night were introduced to Butte des Morts Golf Club's membership at the traditional Coronet Ball.

Presented by their fathers and crowned by Robert Martin, club president, were Penny Eisele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley E. Eisele, 707 W. Front St.; Miss Jane Ann Hauser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis John Hauser, 325 Twelfth St., Neenah; Miss Karen Lorraine Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Charles Holtz, Shore Acres, route 1, Menasha; Miss Susan Fay Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ellis Jenkins, 915 N. Rankin St.; Miss Lynn Marvis Pechman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Pechman, 411 W. Wisconsin Ave., Kaukauna; and Miss Patricia Rose Remick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Remick, 701 Keyes St., Menasha.

Center of Attraction
A light spangled crown of netted greens trimmed with silver ball clusters against a backdrop of red and green drapery was the center of attraction and eyes of proud parents and guests were focused on this spot as the girls made their way into the main dining room.

Small coronets made of silver trica-tine studded with fine sprays of imported rhinestones were placed on the young women's heads. They carried small grill work balls of silver, spilling white flowers.

A memento of the occasion, a small gold disc, was tucked into each bouquet for the girls to treasure.

Organ Music
"Some Enchanted Evening" began drifting throughout the room, as Miss Holtz, the first presentee, made her way to the stage. She chose a full flowing gown of silk organza with a softly draped bodice, delicate jeweled straps and circular skirt. A cummerbund encircled her waist.

Clarence Nellessen, 524 Franklin St., Little Chute.

Next came Miss Pechman, wearing a gown of silk organza with a tiered skirt and molded strapless bodice. "Sweet and Lovely" was her song choice for the evening. She was escorted by Stephen Jolin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jolin, 720 S. Memorial Drive.

A ball gown of pure silk organza with a softly draped and fitted bodice and swirled draped skirt detailed with velvet roses was Miss Jenkins' dress choice. Stepping lightly to the strains of "The Desert Song," she made her bow to the club's membership. She was escorted by Allan E. Kurth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kurth, Hartford.

Bell Silhouette

Miss Eisele, whose escort was Thomas Quella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Quella, 621 W. Lawrence St., was attired in a bell silhouette gown of peau d'ange lace combined with silk faced peau de soie. The back featured draped folds tucked up with self-fabric flowers.

"Moments to Remember" was her song choice.

Anthony Mark Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Baldwin, 143 N. Park St., Neenah, was Miss Hauser's escort for the evening. She was wearing a gown fashioned of silk crystalettes accented with embroidered crystallette underscored with taffeta. The snugly fitted strapless bodice topped a scalloped overskirt caught up with small roses and detailed with a wide flounce of embroidered crystallette. Her song was "Moon Over Miami."

Designed Dresses
"Fascination" was Miss Remick's song for the evening. The young woman, who was escorted by David Thomsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Thomsen, Lake Forest, Ill., wore a silk organza gown styled with a strapless bodice and detailed with fan pleated lace. The bouffant organza skirt was circled with graceful organdy puffs caught up with self-fabric roses.

Mrs. Alice Winge designed the young women's dresses. The arrangements in the club and the girls' bouquets were styled by Mrs. Carl Heuer, Milwaukee, who also arranged the first ball three years ago with the help of Andrew War-go, club manager.

Entertained Girls

After the formal presentation, the girls led the grand march into the ballroom, where they danced under a striped ribbon canopy of red and green. The fathers were entitled to the first dance with their daughters before the traditional rush started.

Mr. and Mrs. Remick and Mr.

and Mrs. Hauser were hosts at a pre-ball party at the Remick residence. After the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Pechman entertained the girls and their guests.

Preceding the presentation, the young women and their escorts and guests dined at the club.

Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mrs. John Goehler and Mrs. Raymond LeVe were in charge of the formal ball. This year's ball brought the number of presentees to 19.

A Debutante's First Dance after her formal introduction to adult society traditionally belongs to her father. The six young women in their white ball gowns were a picture of youthful grace as they glided across the floor in the arms of proud fathers.

Miss Penny Eisele straightens the tie of her father, Dudley E. Eisele, as they get ready to take the stage at the third annual Coronet Ball Tuesday evening at Butte des Morts Golf Club. At right, Mrs. Eric Lindbergh plays the young women's favorite songs on the organ as they are introduced by Robert Martin, club president.

Miss Patricia Remick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Remick, gets the first dance with her father at the Coronet Ball. The young women were formally presented at 9:30 p.m. to Butte des Morts Golf Club's membership.

Miss Lynn Pechman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Pechman, and Miss Jane Ann Hauser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis John Hauser, visit with their fathers before the start of the ball. At right, Robert Martin, club president, places the coveted coronet on the head of Miss Karen Lorraine Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Charles Holtz, as her father casts an approving and proud eye.

A Decorated Christmas Tree provided the background for Miss Susan Fay Jenkins and her father, Hubert Ellis Jenkins, as they await their turn to enter.

Questions On Sewing

Today's teenagers absolutely de-I'd forget about it. Actually, I light me. It's marvelous to see how fashion conscious they are, and they are intelligent, too, in the way they use fashion pages as their guide. But please, girls, don't go overboard — keep your lid on and think first before you start slashing into ultra-sophisticated fabrics you're not quite ready to wear. Remember, you'll be old many more years than you'll be gloriously young.

A To alter a pattern for a low bust, you must do more than just replace the dart. Following the diagram, cut across your pattern just above the normal bustline. Slide a piece of tissue underneath, spread the pattern the necessary length required and pin to tissue. If added length is not needed at the waistline, make a fold between bustline and waist, taking up the extra length, and pin. Now, draw a bustline dart where new bustline falls.

Your Problems Daughter Cheats on Fiance; Mother Wonders What to Do

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter is engaged to a fine young man who is away at college. When he comes home, every third weekend, they are inseparable. Greta looks at her fiancé with such adoring eyes you'd think she worshipped him.

Ten minutes Ann Landers after he leaves our home she's out the front door with another fellow. She has three or four young men around town who take her out behind her father's back. I've told Greta this is wrong but she claims the others are only platonic friends and that I am over-mind.

Last night my husband and I returned from a party early. The house was pitch black and we assumed she was out. When we switched on the living room light we found Greta and a young man sitting on the couch. They were disheveled and embarrassed. Greta is 22—old enough to know better. What shall we do?—Sideliners

Dear Sideliners: There is nothing you can—or should—do. Now that you know Greta had about the platonic friendships prepared for the roof to cave in. Her fiancé eventually will get a cheerful little earful and the engagement will be off.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've been going with a fellow—a co-bachelor for 12 years. He led me to believe that when his mother died we would get married. It's been eight months since her death and he still refuses to discuss the future. He answers, "Be patient until I work out my problems." He takes me to dinner three times a week, always to the nicest places. Frequently he phones my sister and invites her too. She broke her engagement five years ago and always accepts. I thought for a while he was asking her to be nice but now I wonder if he intends her so we can't discuss marriage plans.

I'm fed up with the whole setup. I'm afraid to act jealous or pounce provides green for the When a gal reaches 35 it's difficult to meet men friends. Please tell me what to do.—Frustrated

Dear Frustrated: What more must happen before you get the message? The first flag was his promise to marry you when his mother died. An adult who has to wait for a funeral before he can have a wedding is stalling. This man is too immature to accept the responsibilities of marriage.

Unless you want to "go with" him another 12 years give him the air.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 10-year-old son came from school in tears. The teacher said to him in the presence of the class, "I don't know why you're so stupid. Your brother was a wonderful student."

Our older son is brilliant and makes excellent grades almost without effort. This boy is slower and it's sad to see him struggle and not do nearly so well. My husband says the teacher was only trying to get him to do better. He saw nothing wrong with her remark. Comment please.—T.R.

Dear T.R.: The teacher should not have called him stupid, nor should she have made the comparison. Life is tough enough for the less bright brother. Talk to the teacher. The boy needs to be built up, not knocked down.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request twenty cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

A lovely asks "How do fashion models get their eyes to look so big, their skin and lips so satiny, their faces so slender and delicate? Are they just born gorgeous, or do they know more about make-up than the rest of us girls?"

It is said that only one girl in thousands has the inborn qualifications of a model. But it is for sure that given the qualifications, a girl must learn to make the most of them before she can model. What she learns about make-up is applicable to every damsel, as you will see from these model answers to our correspondent's questions.

Sheinwold Millstone No Good In Bridge

If somebody hangs a millstone around your neck, it's a good idea to get rid of it as soon as you can. I have it on good authority that the millstone does nothing for your appearance, and you can see for yourself that it does even less for your bridge. West opened the five of spades. East put up the queen, and South won with the king. Declarer saw that he had to develop the diamonds without giving East the chance to get in and lead a spade through the jack. South led a heart to dummy's jack and returned a low diamond from dummy. If East had been able to play the deuce of diamonds, South was ready to duck.

The Ailing House Enlist Help Of Expert For This Job

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
SLATE ROOF REPAIR
Question: A few tiles in my slate roof require replacement. Where can these be purchased? Are they difficult to replace?
Answer: Unless you are skilled with this type of work, I strongly urge having a professional roofer do the replacement job. Replacement slate tiles can be purchased at roofing materials dealers. Tiles are re-set with nails and metal flashing.
SHELLAC ON OIL PICTURE
Question: In an effort to give more depth to an oil reproduction, I applied two coats of fresh white shellac to the picture. Now it is very shiny and dark looking. Is there any safe method by which I could remove this shellac coating and still retain the picture?
Answer: Usual solvent for removing shellac is denatured alcohol. As an experiment, you might try dabbing this on one small spot using a little artist's brush. When softened, wipe off the shellac with a soft cloth. If the results are okay, and the spot on the picture is apparently unaffected, then it should be safe if the picture is valuable, it would be wise to take it to an art museum or a reliable dealer so that it can be personally examined, and you can get an expert's opinion on the spot recommendation.

Plan Program When Redoing Kitchen Area

If the holidays have left you in an unholly daze, perhaps it's time you resolved to do something about the kitchen. Even if you resolve to do something about the budget first, no conflict need arise if a permanent material is used for kitchen walls, floors and counters. The kitchen can be improved in 3. Equipment The type and quantity of the range depends on work out a program and assign the amount of cooking done and priorities. For example, the three main work centers — sink, range and mixer — can be tackled in order of need. Taking the range center as an arbitrary beginning, analyze your kitchen and plan improvements on this basis.

1. Function. The purpose of the range center is to provide facilities for surface cooking, baking and broiling and a convenient place for serving hot foods.
2. Location. The range center should be situated near the mixing center, not too far from the sink center and should be as accessible as possible to the dining area.

PARTY-PAYING GUESTS
My parents will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary late in January. They have five children and married two of the daughters would like to have a small family party. Another daughter who generally gets her way insists on renting a hall and inviting about 300 people for supper. She wants the invited guests to purchase tickets at $3.50 a piece to defray the expenses. I am strongly against the plan and would like your opinion before we get together for our first meeting next week.

Davis

Louise Davis Answers:
I hope you can talk your sister out of her outrageous idea even if you have to be vehement about it. One just doesn't give a party and expect the guests to pay their own way. I strongly advise that you five children plan a party and share the expenses without any of you going overboard if you can't afford it. What could I be more delightful on such a happy occasion than to have an open house and limit your refreshments according to the budget. Punch, canapés and an anniversary cake would be plenty and much less costly than hiring a hall and having a hefty meal.

Freshen A Lampshade

Plain colored shades that aren't new looking anymore can be covered successfully with wallpaper, metal foil wall covering, shantung, loose-woven cotton fabric or glass cloth. Mrs. F. B. asks if the new paper-backed heavy foil wall coverings can be used, and how to do the job. Metallic foil requires one of the heavier ready-made adhesives to make it adhere to a wall or a lampshade. Mrs. B. and the manufacturer of the foil specifies the kind of his instructions for hanging. Otherwise the procedure is the same as for wallpapers—make a pattern for the shade cover by rolling the shade on a large piece of paper, outlining the shade edges with a pencil as the shade is turned. Cut the foil wide enough to turn over the top and bottom edges of the shade if the present binding of the shade isn't too thick or can be removed since the shade is most attractive when it doesn't show binding. Otherwise, finish with very narrow and plain matching braid.

Mrs. L. D. "Our dark blue room-size rug makes it difficult to change our living room color scheme, which now includes other soft blues and grays. I'd like to repaint the gray walls white, but is the rug too dark to look good with white walls, and what other color can I use in the room? We can slipcover the sofa and two lounge chairs, and I plan to buy new draperies and one new chair. The more we can change the room, the better we'll like it." The most color change for the room will come with bright color and plenty of color contrast. The dark blue and white are striking contrast, and you can use a patterned fabric which repeats a lot of the dark blue and adds a bright shade on a white background. The draperies and a slipcover, two of them or all three might be of the patterned fabric, while those not in the pattern and a new chair can be in a bright color from it.

Our Children

Young Children Shaky In Moral Understanding

BY ANGELO PATRI
Children, particularly those under 13, have little moral understanding. Some have more than others, some less, but most of them are shaky in this phase of their growth so it is better to save them exposure to temptation by the nearest table and forgetting about them for the time being. Now and again they discover money is missing from their purses. Once the money disappears it is very difficult to clear the matter up. It is certain that the money was there and that it is no longer there but the rest is uncertain and any effort at clearing it up is painful and leaves a shadow on the household.

win a trick. If West led anything else, South would take the rest of the diamonds for a total of 10 tricks.

The result would be different if West dropped the queen of diamonds on the first round of that suit. South would have to give a diamond trick to East if he persisted with the suit. Then a spade return by East would allow West to defeat the contract with four spade tricks.

School Board Changes Its Regulations

By law changes affecting Appleton Board of Education agents, duties of administrative personnel and responsibilities during the school superintendent's absence were approved by the board Tuesday.

The new agenda has "hearing of delegation" at the beginning of the meeting and has no separate item for communications. Bills submitted monthly reports, and requests are included in the superintendent's report.

The superintendent rather than the business affairs director will report to the board on business matters. The new rules state more clearly that administrative personnel are responsible to the superintendent.

In the absence of the superintendent or in event of his inability to act, he is to name a committee consisting of a member of the elementary department, a member of the high school principal and the high school principal to make emergency decisions.

Kennedy Needs Southern Support

Texas Team of Rayburn, Johnson Have Task of Backing Program

BY EDMOND LEBRETON WASHINGTON (AP) — John F. Kennedy's Texas team should have an early chance to show whether it can line up Southern lawmakers for the president-elect's program as effectively as it kept Southern political leaders behind his candidacy.

When Kennedy talked about his legislative program, with the vice president-elect, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, D-Tex., and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., at his side, he mentioned first a Social Security-based health care program for the aged.

This is the legislation killed this year in the House Ways and Means Committee headed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and the Senate Finance Committee headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. Southern votes figured heavily in the committee decisions.

Backers of the kind of bill Kennedy favors contended—and many Carolinians, he would have lacked variation of the Social Security plan ever mustered more than 100 votes in the 25-man committee.

But the chances are that Kennedy, a long-range planner, was looking beyond the election when he passed it.

proval both chambers would have passed it.

Campaign Pledge To redeem its campaign pledges, the incoming administration must lead another try. The coming struggle affords a second test of Kennedy's major strategic decision—to offer the vice presidential nomination to Johnson, his great convention rival for the presidency, and not to write the South out of his calculations.

In terms of the election, the decision has been proven inspired. Johnson, and Johnson's redoubtable manager, Speaker Rayburn, certainly helped keep Texas and the majority of the South in the regular Democratic fold. The vote turned out so close, even electorally, that if Kennedy had lost just doors before irrevocably turning two states rated in advance as down the Social Security approach to health care for the aged.

Instead, he has given Johnson, and through Johnson, Rayburn, a substantial personal stake in the new administration's success. The struggle will open soon, presumably in the Ways and Means committee, which this year turned out so close, even electorally, that if Kennedy had lost just doors before irrevocably turning two states rated in advance as down the Social Security approach to health care for the aged.

Evacuate Homes in Propane Explosion

Hundreds Flee, Four Injured as Flames Leap 1,000 Feet in Air; Windows Shattered for Blocks

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP) — A storage tank containing potent liquid propane exploded Wednesday night. Four men were injured, one of them critically, and hundreds fled their homes.

Scene of the explosion was the Sun Gas Products Corp., located in Bayonne's "Constance Hook" section, near New York Bay. Flames climbed 1,000 feet into the sky and windows for blocks around were shattered by the impact.

Police evacuated everybody from within a one-half mile radius of the explosion site and cordoned it off.

Firemen sprayed the flames and water on a huge tank containing oil, 200 yards away. At one point, flames were within 50 yards of the oil tank.

But shortly before 3 a. m. today, firemen announced the fire was under control.

Critically injured was truck driver Stanley Richalski, 40, of Chester, N. Y. He was taken to Bayonne Hospital, suffering from third degree burns over 40 percent of his body.

Also injured were Billy Rowan, 27, of Bayonne, a volunteer worker; Earl Lewis, 47, of Port Jervis, N. Y., a truck driver; and

Fight Move to Change Form Of Government

Towns Association Wants System to Remain the Same

WISCONSIN RAPIDS (AP) — The Wisconsin Towns Association has gone on record against legislation that would change the present form of town or county government.

Members of the organization also adopted a resolution at a special meeting here Wednesday that expressed opposition to reorganization of legislative districts on the basis of population only. The Wisconsin Constitution provides that the districts be reapportioned every 10 years on the basis of population.

The association stated that population — only representation "causes a hardship on farming areas by having too large a district represented by their respective legislators." The organization urged that no assemblyman represent more than two counties.

The resolution on county and town government stated that "there is a movement afoot to abolish town and county government..." and "this may lead to a commission form of government."

The association also opposed any move to abolish the office of town health officer in favor of a county health officer, contending that such action "would lead to greater expense with less service." It also opposed any changes in the present form of distributing aids to municipalities, including gasoline, income, liquor and utility taxes.

Also adopted was a resolution that opposes annexation of any part of a town to a city or village without a referendum or without the knowledge and consent of town boards.

More than 400 town officials attended the meeting. Speakers included Sens. Frank Panzer, R-Brownsville, and Walter Holland, R-Rosendale.

Crosby Named Father Of Illegitimate Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bing Crosby's son Dennis has been declared the father of a girl born out of wedlock three years ago to a Hollywood divorcee.

"Well, I expected it," said the son of the famous singer, after the 9-3 verdict was returned Wednesday in Superior Court.

Seven women and two men on the jury, composed entirely of parents, found that the premature baby Crosby fathered the girl I. Nurnberger, M.D., and Eugene E. Levitt of the psychiatry department, Indiana University School of Medicine.

Eating too much is largely a habit, they told the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Psychological principles can help develop self-control, which is by will have to pay for the child's different from will power, they said. But this could be delayed by an appeal.

Sheriff Leslie Jett holds Darrell Bateman, 5, on his lap at a Nashville, Tenn., hospital. The child was found last week after being left alone with little food in a two-room family shack. Don McGehee, right, juvenile officer, and Jett found Darrell, faring real well at the hospital. Police said the boy had never heard of Santa Claus until presents started pouring in at the hospital. The boy's father, Kenneth Bateman, has been charged with criminal neglect.

Eating Involves Chain of Events; Suggest This Routine be Broken

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE — that simply telling people about the consequences of over-eating can be a helpful buddy in dieting can be effective.

Establish Ritual

You can't learn to shoot golf in the 90s just by reading about golf, they pointed out.

For all dieters, they suggested, Establish a ritual of three meals a day, with perhaps a light snack such as milk and crackers at bedtime.

Control the time of meals rigidly.

When the urge to eat wells up, do something in which eating isn't feasible—take a walk, go to a movie, ride a bus, or lay a cement sidewalk.

Keep food in relatively inaccessible places.

Avoid crash diets.

Eat a balanced diet. Too much of one food probably will increase the inclination to eat other foods.

GOP May Seek Equal TV Time On Conferences

Predicts Move if Press Talks Become 'Dramatic Shows'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said today if John F. Kennedy uses White House news conferences for "propaganda" purposes, Republicans may ask for equal air time.

Kuchel, the assistant Senate Republican leader, said in an interview that Kennedy's plans to hold evening news conferences on live television indicate the Democrats are going to be used for propaganda purposes.

Equal time provisions of the law would not cover Kennedy or if such a time as he might announce he is a candidate for reelection.

Speculative Reports

Kuchel said he had heard speculative reports that Kennedy might call a prime time television conference to discuss a single subject—possibly some controversial matter before Congress—and limit reporters' questions to that subject.

CONSTIPATION IS NATION'S WORST AILMENT

There are many conditions which people fear more than constipation but few conditions which affect as many people and have as far reaching effects.

Chronic constipation lowers body resistance and exposes the body to many diseases. The most direct effects of constipation are appendicitis, colitis, and piles.

The bowels are always in motion. This motion is known as peristaltic action and can only be made possible through an unobstructed flow of nervous impulses from the brain to the bowels. Diet and regular habits aid in preventing constipation, but interference with the mental impulse flow is the primary cause.

The doctor of Chiropractic is especially trained to locate and correct this cause so that the bowels will again "move" normally.

Library Drafts 400 Bills for 1961 Session

Influx Not Expected To Reach 1959 Mark Of 450 Requests

MADISON (AP)—The Legislative Reference Library is drafting 400 bills for introduction in the 1961 Wisconsin Legislature, a total M. G. Toepel, library chief, calls normal.

Legislative Council requests account for a majority of the library's bill-drafting assignments. Toepel said today. Requests from individual lawmakers make up the remainder.

Toepel said he expects the figure to reach 450 before the session begins Jan. 11, and that the estimate indicates the influx of new legislation will not approach the record proportions of 1959.

The 1959 session set a mark for length and a high for legislation introduced. There were 933 bills and resolutions offered in the Senate and 1,232 in the Assembly, for a total of 2,225.

Bill drafting is the best known service rendered by the Legislative Library which marks its 60th anniversary next year. But it also edits the State Manual, or Wisconsin Blue Book, and serves as a reference agency on all matters dealing with legislation.

Toepel, its fourth chief, proudly notes that in each regular session since 1925 every member of the Legislature has made some use of the library's bill-drafting service.

Counsel Lawmakers
Sometimes, individual lawmakers give the library only general instructions on a desired piece of legislation and Toepel's staff takes it from there.

In other cases, a library staffer is called on to counsel a lawmaker in the proper and most efficient procedure for making a change in Wisconsin statute.

The library often prevents duplication in bills by advising a member that a piece of legislation he is considering already has been prepared for some other lawmaker. But in all other aspects, the library's relationship with legislators is strictly confidential.

Light Snow Covers Most Parts of State

A snow fall, ranging from a maximum of an inch to a slight dusting, covered most areas of the state this morning.

The snow began falling about 11 p.m. Wednesday in the Fox Cities. It measured about one half inch at 10 a.m. today.

More white is expected in flurries and another light fall over the state tonight and Friday. The state patrol says all roads are in good winter driving condition with the exception of scattered slippery spots in small towns and villages.

It was another cold morning across the northern tier of states from the central Rockies into New England but some warmer weather appeared on the way.

Zero to 10-degree temperatures were general from northern Pennsylvania into northern Maine, along the central Rockies and in a narrow belt from eastern Colorado to southwestern Minnesota.

Below zero marks were reported in some spots, including readings of -24 in West Yellowstone, Mont.; -18 in Fraser, Colo.; and -11 in Lebanon, N. H.

Rising temperatures were indicated in most of the cold belt. The 20s prevailed in the north.
